Kennedy And Mr. K Set Vienna Parley June 3-4

Will Mark First Time For Contact

Effort Ruled Out For Agreement On Major Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will meet in Vienna June 3 and 4 for a "general exchange of views" on major world issues, the White House announced today.

The announcement ruled out any effort to reach agreement on "the major international problems that involve the interest of many other countries."

"The meeting will, however, afford a timely and convenient opportunity for the first personal contact between them (Kennedy and Khrushchev) and a general exchange of views on the major issues which affect the relationship between the two countries," the announcement said.

Announcement of the meeting was made simultaneously in Washington, Moscow and London.

It disclosed officially what had been rumored for some time — that after a meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle in Paris May 31-June 2, the President will go directly to Vienna.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy will make the trip on the morning of June 3. It is approximately a two-hour flight.

Diplomatic officials say privately Kennedy's primary interest in meeting Khrushchev is to try through direct personal diplomacy to save the Geneva negotiations on a nuclear weapons test ban. The talks among the United States Britain and the Soviet Union have been deadlocked for many weeks.

In addition, the President is said to feel that it would be useful for him at this time to make clear to Khrushchev that in spite of U. S. reverses in Cuba and Laos the United States is determined to stand by commitments to prevent free nations from being taken over by international communism.

Kennedy met Thursday with former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who is advising him on NATO policies; Assistant Secretary of State Foy Kohler; Charles E. Bohlen, the State Department's top expert on Soviet affairs; and McGeorge Bundy, the President's special assistant for international security affairs.

Geneva Note Sent Laos Truce Unit

Asks Of Needs To Set Supervision Of Cease-Fire There

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—The East-West conference on Laos today rushed a message to the truce commission in that Southeast Asian trouble spot asking what it needs to supervise the cease-fire there.

Indian delegate V. K. Krishna Menon told newsmen he understood the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union were ready to help out the truce teams with planes, helicopters and other equipment.

India is chairman of the three-nation commission, Poland and Canada the other members.

Menon said Indian and Canadian pilots could fly the Western aircraft and Poles the Soviet machines.

East and West delegates approved the move to tighten the shaky truce in Laos. Both sides had charged Thursday that the rival factions in that country were violating the cease-fire.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and the Soviet Union's Andrei A. Gromyko, as cochairmen of the conference, discussed ways to strengthen the truce commission's hand.

They included proposals for reinforcing the commission with more money and manpower; swiftly providing a fleet of airplanes, helicopters, cars, trucks and communications equipment; calling for countrywide surveillance of the uneasy cease-fire.

The initiative for the conference's crash program to buttress the international commission came from Canadian Foreign Minister Howard C. Green, who urged for speed and said the commission could not properly check the truce without its own fully self-contained system of transportation, communications and maintenance.

Meanwhile, the Western Big Three shaped up a new plan designed to rid the troubled kingdom of the North Vietnamese who they claim turned the tide of battle in favor of the Pathet Lao rebels.

The United States, Britain and France also were weighing a proposal to spell out definite international guarantees for any agreement neutralizing the Southeast Asian kingdom.

France will submit the plan to oust the North Vietnamese Communists. The proposal will be part of a detailed document setting forth arrangements for buttressing peacemaking machinery in the war-torn jungle country.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk insisted Thursday American military advisers would quit Laos only if the North Vietnamese leave also.

A high Western authority said the allied proposals are shaping up this way.

1. The Western powers claim each Pathet Lao battalion is "stiffened" by a cadre from neighboring Communist North Viet Nam. The West insists they must be ousted. The future Laotian army must contain only Lao-

President Yun Resigns

South Korea Head Quits As Military Rule Prevails

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Yun Po-sun has resigned, a presidential secretary announced today. The development was reported as military rule prevailed again in South Korea for the first time since Syngman Rhee was ousted last year.

A statement issued to newsmen over Yun's name said "I regret that I made so little contribution to the nation that a military revolution has occurred."

Yun was the only constitutional official left in office after a military coup this week seized power and forced the resignation of Premier John M. Chang.

Yun's resignation, which was confirmed by spokesmen reached by telephone at the presidential palace, followed by one day Premier Chang's capitulation and resignation.

Under the South Korean form of government, the premier exercised the real ruling power and the president was a figurehead chief of state.

In a Korean crisis such as this week's uprising, it is traditional for the leading figures to step aside in penance.

The nation's military chiefs had arrested 930 suspected leftists and imposed stringent censorship.

Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, chief of the military junta that seized power in a 62-hour revolt, expressed confidence that the U. S. government—despite its local representatives' opposition to the coup—"will cooperate with us and support us more positively than ever before."

The 38-year-old general, still in combat fatigues, told newsmen those arrested will be "properly dealt with after careful investigation."

The general did not give any names, but most were thought to be Socialists with from moderate to extreme left leanings. The Communist party is outlawed in this nation of 23 million and its operation is underground.

Chang said deposed Premier John M. Chang and his cabinet ministers were at their homes and under house arrest. They will be subject to severe punishment, he said, "if any serious crimes by them are uncovered.

Chang said he based his forecast of good relations between the U. S. government and his regime on the fact that "our armed forces . . . have had closer relations with U. S. authorities than any other Korean agency."

In Washington, Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles said the United States can hardly cheer at the upsetting of a constitutional government" but that he thought the new regime would be recognized.

A spokesman for the U. S. operation mission, which this year will dispense some $200 million in aid to South Korea, said work was resumed Thursday on all projects on the planning boards or under construction.

As censorship was broadened, Korean radio stations were ordered to quit relaying the Voice of America's twice-a-day news programs in the Korean language. The object was to keep any criticism of the military government from the people.

Yardmasters Slate Tieup For Monday

Could Idle Major Firms; No Strike Seen For 2 Months

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is expected to issue an order today blocking a nationwide railroad strike threat raised for next Monday by the Railroad Yardmasters of America.

CHICAGO (AP) — A strike against the nation's railroads has been called for Monday by the Railroad Yardmasters of America. But a spokesman for the carriers says there will be no walkout for at least two months.

Milton G. Schoch, president of the nonoperating union representing some 5,000 workers who make up the trains, said the work stoppage could tie up the nation's major railroads. Schoch confirmed the strike call Thursday night but declined to disclose issues in the dispute.

A spokesman for the railroad, however, said the dispute involved wages and work rules and would go before an emergency board under procedures of the National (Railway) Labor Act. Such action normally delays a strike by at least 60 days.

Theodore M. Short, chairman of the Western Carriers Conference, said he expected an emergency board to be named by the President would meet in Washington Tuesday. He said he had received unofficial notice to that effect.

Schoch, asked if he though the President would appoint an emergency board, said: "Oh, yes. I'm not worrying." He did not elaborate.

The rail spokesman said initial negotiations between the railroads and the union broke down last year. Then, as specified by law, negotiations resumed under auspices of the National Mediation Board.

The board proferred arbitration March 16, but the yardmasters, one of 16 nonoperating unions, declined. The brotherhood, in addition to a wage hike, is seeking work rules changes. The carriers also are asking changes in work rules and a decrease in pay.

Strike Benefit Voted For Louisiana Local

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today its Executive Board has sanctioned payment of strike beneftis to members of Local 308 who have been on strike since Monday against Slidell Brick & Tile, Inc., of Slidell, La.

The IBOP said the local's contract with the plant expired April 15. Numerous bargaining sessions and the intervention of a federal mediator failed to avert the strike, it said. The company took a "definite stand against granting any concessions," it charged. The plant was organized by the IBOP in November 1959.

2 Men Fined For Dresden 4-Way Crash

3 Trucks And Auto Figure In Collision On Curve At W. 9th

Two men were cited as the aftermath of a spectacular four-way collision Thursday noon on a Dresden Ave. curve near W. 9th St. which damaged three trucks and an auto.

Police said the crash occurred when an inbound steel-laden truck was unable to halt for an auto that was stopped at the end of a traffic line, veered to the left and struck two oncoming trucks.

The mishap involved:

A 1959 model truck owned by Wilbur Hawthorne, 401 N. Beaver St., Lisbon, and operated by Kenneth Hawkins, 33, of Leetonia R. D. 1; a 1956 four-door sedan driven by Mrs. Geraldine R. Kemple, 60, of Kenova, W. Va.; a 1947 model truck owned by Howard Keevert of R. D. 2 and operated by William L. Green, 44, of 1016 Dresden Ave., and a 1960 model pickup truck owned by the Tassi Coal Co. of Lisbon R. D. 3 and operated by Louis A. Tassi, 22, also of Lisbon R. D. 3.

Hawkins' steel-laden truck was inbound about 30 to 35 miles an hour, he told police, when he rounded a curve and saw a line of traffic halted ahead of him. Mrs. Kemple's auto was the last in the line.

Hawkins said he applied his brakes in an attempt to halt, but his rig started to skid. Rather than strike the woman's auto squarely in the rear, he swerved to his left and started around the line of halted vehicles, but met the oncoming trucks of Green and Tassi.

Green and Tassi told police they pulled as far to the right as possible, attempting to avoid the collision. Hawkins' rig hit Green's truck, knocking it into the vehicle operated by Tassi, police said. Tassi was hauling a large drum containing 200 gallons of gasoline. Mrs. Kemple's car was hit in the left rear.

City Fireman Resigns, Cites Pay Factor

Citing financial reasons, City Fireman Austin Conley Jr. has submitted his resignation effective May 31.

In a letter to Chief Charles Bryan, Conley, the father of two children, said: "I hate to do this, but financial circumstances give me no choice at the present time.

"I have turned down two other job offers, hoping something would work out but so far it hasn't."

Conley said today he has accepted a job as a driver with a trucking firm after debating his decision for a month.

Copies of his letter also were given Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver, Municipal Civil Service Commission, Firemen's Pension Board and Local 24, International Association of Fire-Fighters.

Conley was appointed to the fire department July 1, 1958, when the city named seven new firemen after passage of the original city income tax. He now is on vacation.

3 Missing Americans Reported Alive, Well

BAN NAMONE, Laos (AP)—A neutralist reported today that two American fliers and an American television cameraman missing since their helicopter went down in rebel territory are alive and well.

Presumably they are prisoners of the Pathet Lao, but the Pathet Lao said only they had not heard of the incident and would check.

Ruip Hearing Set May 25

Indictment Charges Ohioan In Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP)—A hearing on an indictment charging Richard C. Ruip, 24, of Akron, with bank robbery in Indiana has been set for May 25 by U. S. Commissioner H. A. Horn.

Ruip, a three-time escapee from Ohio jails, demanded the hearing when he was arraigned before the commissioner Thursday afternoon. He is held in the Cuyahoga County jail under $100,000 bond.

The indictment charges Ruip took $5,200 in a holdup of the Waynesdale branch of the Peoples Trust & Savings Co. near Fort Wayne April 17. Ruip told Commissioner Horn he was not in Fort Wayne when the bank was robbed.

Manos Found Guilty In Slaying Of Wife

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A common pleas jury late Thursday night found John Manos, 24, guilty of first - degree murder for choking his wife to death last Dec. 17.

The jury recommended mercy, sparing Manos from being sentenced to the electric chair.

Manos had taken the stand as a final witness for the defense and had repudiated previous statements to police in which he allegedly admitted killing his wife, Ruth Ann, 21, in the kitchen of their Steubenville home.

A psychiatrist testified during the trial that Manos was insane.

Americans Due In Today From Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A planeload of Americans is due here late today from Cuba, where many had been real or virtual prisoners of the turbulent Fidel Castro regime.

Instead of the rum and night club souvenirs of happier days, these repatriates will bring home memories of armed militiamen confiscating their property or hazing them into jails.

Their exit from Havana is being expedited by the Swiss Embassy, which represents the United States in Cuba since the U.S. break in diplomatic relations with Castro's revolutionary government.

A host of other Americans, eager to quit Cuba, still had frustrating hurdles to clear in the shape of permits to leave. Lack of credentials acceptable to Castro officials was a common complication.

Today's special repatriation flight of Pan American World Airways is expected to take some of the pressure off accommodations in embassies at Havana, which have sheltered numerous Americans since the abortive April 17 invasion of Cuban exiles with U.S. support triggered a crackdown on U.S. citizens throughout Cuba.

Some of the men had been off work since the old contract expired March 31 through a "lockout" imposed by the OVBE in cities along the Ohio River.

The new agreement provides for 7 cents an hour wage increase this year, 10 cents increase per hour April 1, 1962, and another 10-cent increase April 1, 1963.

2 Men Fined For Dresden 4-Way Crash

3 Trucks And Auto Figure In Collision On Curve At W. 9th

Two men were cited as the aftermath of a spectacular four-way collision Thursday noon on a Dresden Ave. curve near W. 9th St. which damaged three trucks and an auto.

Police said the crash occurred when an inbound steel-laden truck was unable to halt for an auto that was stopped at the end of a traffic line, veered to the left and struck two oncoming trucks.

The mishap involved:

A 1959 model truck owned by Wilbur Hawthorne, 401 N. Beaver St., Lisbon, and operated by Kenneth Hawkins, 33, of Leetonia R. D. 1; a 1956 four-door sedan driven by Mrs. Geraldine R. Kemple, 60, of Kenova, W. Va.; a 1947 model truck owned by Howard Keevert of R. D. 2 and operated by William L. Green, 44, of 1016 Dresden Ave., and a 1960 model pickup truck owned by the Tassi Coal Co. of Lisbon R. D. 3 and operated by Louis A. Tassi, 22, also of Lisbon R. D. 3.

Hawkins' steel-laden truck was inbound about 30 to 35 miles an hour, he told police, when he rounded a curve and saw a line of traffic halted ahead of him. Mrs. Kemple's auto was the last in the line.

Hawkins said he applied his brakes in an attempt to halt, but his rig started to skid. Rather than strike the woman's auto squarely in the rear, he swerved to his left and started around the line of halted vehicles, but met the oncoming trucks of Green and Tassi.

Green and Tassi told police they pulled as far to the right as possible, attempting to avoid the collision. Hawkins' rig hit Green's truck, knocking it into the vehicle operated by Tassi, police said. Tassi was hauling a large drum containing 200 gallons of gasoline. Mrs. Kemple's car was hit in the left rear.

STEUBENVILLE — Bricklayers Local 14 and the Ohio Valley Builders Exchange agreed to a new three-year contract following a night-long negotiations session Thursday in the Fort Steuben Hotel.

Some of the men had been off work since the old contract expired March 31 through a "lockout" imposed by the OVBE in cities along the Ohio River.

The new agreement provides for 7 cents an hour wage increase this year, 10 cents increase per hour April 1, 1962, and another 10-cent increase April 1, 1963.

Verdict Near In Land Case

LISBON — A verdict is expected today in Common Pleas Court in the land appropriation case of the Ohio Department of Highways against Samuel and Nathan Caplan of East Liverpool. The land is being taken for the city freeway and the jury will set the valuation.

City Man Believed Oldest County Juror

Sitting as a member of the jury at the Caplan land appropriation trial at Lisbon is George B. M. Kilmer, 317 Market St., who, at 90, is believed to be the oldest county resident to have served on a panel in many years.

Kilmer, a pottery cooper, Moose Lodge member for 48 years and the only living charter member of the East Liverpool Trades & Labor Council, is the oldest person to serve on a jury in the memory of Norman Ward, Common Pleas Court assignment commissioner.

Judge Joel H. Sharp was charging the jury this morning. It heard closing arguments late Thursday afternoon.

The land includes 0.394 acre which was used for scrap iron storage.

The trial began Monday morning.

2. The Indian-Polish-Canadian truce commission must be strengthened, possibly by the addition of new members. Its operations must not be hamstrung by open or concealed vetos.

3. The commission must have power to travel into northern Laos, where the Pathet Lao is in control. It should supervise the purge of the North Vietnamese as well as police the cease-fire.

4. The commission must have its own transportation system — airplanes, helicopters, cars and trucks — and its own communications arrangements.

If the Soviet and Red Chinese delegates refuse to go along with this program, President Kennedy is expected to take the matter up with Soviet Premier Khrushchev when they meet.

Secretary Rusk walked out of the conference Thursday while a Pathet Lao delegate was delivering a tirade against the United States. Other members of the American delegation also took a walk.

Rusk had opposed admitting the pro-Communist Pathet Lao to the conference but an American spokesman denied the secretary's walkout was intended as a snub.

Lisbon Council Sets Action On Annexation

LISBON — Third reading of an ordinance for the annexation of a 45-acre tract northeast of N. Market St. will be the main business before Council Monday night, according to Mayor Dean Stockman.

The scheduled third reading May 8 was postponed when Council heard of opposition to the annexation, and a special meeting was held Monday evening to allow opponents an opportunity to speak and two persons appeared.

Most of the tract is undeveloped and the owner, Robert Williams, president of the Lisbon Lumber Co., plans to make a residential allotment.

Councilman Raymond Dixon has been opposed, explaining he was not satisfied with the north boundary line in which half of road must be maintained by the village and half by Center Township trustees, if it is annexed.

Suspension Of Akron Air Service Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Airlines has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to suspend service at Akron, Ohio, temporarily, pending a CAB ruling on the airline's request to eliminate the service altogether.

American said that in view of the extension of Allegheny Airlines to Akron last August, continued American service to Akron on a route between Cleveland and Columbus would represent "wasteful competition."

trolman William A. Devon investigated.

Mrs. Kemple told police she apparently was unhurt but intended to go to a Columbiana physician to be checked for shock. Hawkins was cited on a charge of driving left of center and Tassi was charged with driving without an operator's permit.

Both Tassi and Hawkins were fined today by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff — Tassi $25 and costs and Hawkins $50 and costs.

Tassi pleaded guilty. Hawkins pleaded not guilty, but was convicted on the testimony of Officer Devon.

Hawkins said when he swerved into the wrong lane while trying to avoid the woman's auto he switched on his truck's headlights and sounded the horn repeatedly to warn oncoming traffic.

Judge Chertoff told Tassi if he obtains a new operator's permit by Wednesday it will be taken into consideration in possible mitigation of his fine. Tassi's permit expired March 27. He told the court he forgot to renew it.

The license carried notations of three prior convictions on traffic cases — before a juvenile court in 1957, in Parma Municipal Court in 1958 for speeding and in the same court last September for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

In another accident yesterday, a neon sign at a Harvey Ave. service station was knocked down when struck by a lumber-laden truck, officers said.

A sign at the Adkins Sohio Service, 1904 Harvey Ave., owned by Ruel Adkins, was damaged by a truck of the Adkins Lumber Co., 1802 Harvey Ave., officers said.

The truck driver, Thomas C. Durbin, 1901 Ohio Ave., told police he was pulling away from the curb when the truck hit the sign. He said he did not realize there was not enough clearance for the truck underneath the sign. The mishap was timed at 9:12 a.m.

One Of Crash Victims Still Listed As 'Poor'

One of two Carroll County women seriously injured in a Hammondsville car crash Wednesday remains in "poor" condition today at City Hospital.

Mrs. Rhoda Winters, 47, of Carrollton R.D. 1, driver of the car which skidded through a guardrail and hit a tree in County Rd. 50, continues "poor" with chest injuries, cuts of the knee and severe lacerations of the eye.

Mrs. Pearl Short, 30, of Carrollton R.D. 1, daughter of Mrs. Winters and passenger, is in "fair" condition with cuts of the forehead and eye, and her daughter, Susan Short, 5, is in "satisfactory" condition with a back injury.

2 Autoists Cited For Route 7 Mishap

Two drivers were cited on traffic charges after a three-car crash on Route 7, about a mile north of Toronto, Thursday at 9:15 a.m.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said George P. Borski, 39, of Toronto was slowing for traffic when his car was struck slightly by Victor O. Hunt, 44, of Bethesda. Hunt's car then was struck in the rear by Doyle Skidmore of Weirton.

Borski was cited on a charge of driving without an operator's license and Skidmore for failing to halt in the assured clear distance.

There were no injuries, and only moderate damage to the cars of Hunt and Skidmore and light damage to Borski's car, the patrol said.

Youth Held For Forgery

A 20-year-old Sandusky resident — a former resident of East Liverpool — was bound over to the Grand Jury under $1,500 bond today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge he passed a forged $30 check at a service station here last Nov. 29.

Walter Keith Bell pleaded guilty to the charge signed by Capt. Robert H. Pyle. Police said Bell was taken into custody Thursday by Patrolman Kenneth Mooney when he returned to East Liverpool to visit a girl friend.

The charge alleges that Bell forged a check for $30 on the First National Bank, listing himself as payee and signing the fictitious name "Mrs. James Dawson." He cashed the check at the Hays Oil Co., the charge says.

Asked about the woman whose name was signed to the check, Bell told Judge Samuel M. Chertoff no such person exists here. "I guess I'll have to plead guilty, there's no way out of it," he told the court. The judge warned Bell conviction on the charge carries a penalty of 1-20 years in the penitentiary.

Chief Americo Radeschi said officers are investigating the possibility Bell may have issued other fraudulent checks before leaving East Liverpool. Bell resided most of his life in East Liverpool and Wellsville, but went to Sandusky a few months ago to reside with an uncle, the chief said.

Fire Association To Pay CD Costs

The Glenmoor Firemen's Association Thursday night authorized payment of insurance and operating expenses for the Civil Defense fire truck which has been housed at the fire station.

Firemen agreed to continue to house and pay the expenses for the truck that has been in the custody of the 31st Mobile Support Group, which is being deactivated.

The CD truck will be under the jurisdiction of the St. Clair Township trustees for five years, then will be placed up for auction, according to terms of an agreement.

In other action the firemen authorized remodeling of the department ambulance into a squad car because operating costs and insufficient use of the ambulance has made it economically impractical.

Official Count Slated On School Bond Vote

The 5,894 ballots cast in Tuesday's special election in Hancock County, when a $5,283,000 school bond issue was approved, will be canvassed Monday morning at 10:30 in New Cumberland.

County Court, comprised of County Clerk Donald Stewart, and Commissioners William C. Graham, James Finley and Lyle F. Virden, will be in charge of the canvassing.

Stewart said the task is expected to be completed in about an hour and the canvass will be held in the Courthouse building.

The bond issue, to finance construction of four new schools, was approved by 4,584 to 1,310.

Verdict Near In Land Case

LISBON — A verdict is expected today in Common Pleas Court in the land appropriation case of the Ohio Department of Highways against Samuel and Nathan Caplan of East Liverpool. The land is being taken for the city freeway and the jury will set the valuation.

City Man Believed Oldest County Juror

Sitting as a member of the jury at the Caplan land appropriation trial at Lisbon is George B. M. Kilmer, 317 Market St., who, at 90, is believed to be the oldest county resident to have served on a panel in many years.

Kilmer, a pottery cooper, Moose Lodge member for 48 years and the only living charter member of the East Liverpool Trades & Labor Council, is the oldest person to serve on a jury in the memory of Norman Ward, Common Pleas Court assignment commissioner.

Judge Joel H. Sharp was charging the jury this morning. It heard closing arguments late Thursday afternoon.

The land includes 0.394 acre which was used for scrap iron storage.

The trial began Monday morning.

2. The Indian-Polish-Canadian truce commission must be strengthened, possibly by the addition of new members. Its operations must not be hamstrung by open or concealed vetos.

3. The commission must have power to travel into northern Laos, where the Pathet Lao is in control. It should supervise the purge of the North Vietnamese as well as police the cease-fire.

4. The commission must have its own transportation system — airplanes, helicopters, cars and trucks — and its own communications arrangements.

If the Soviet and Red Chinese delegates refuse to go along with this program, President Kennedy is expected to take the matter up with Soviet Premier Khrushchev when they meet.

Secretary Rusk walked out of the conference Thursday while a Pathet Lao delegate was delivering a tirade against the United States. Other members of the American delegation also took a walk.

Rusk had opposed admitting the pro-Communist Pathet Lao to the conference but an American spokesman denied the secretary's walkout was intended as a snub.

Lisbon Council Sets Action On Annexation

LISBON — Third reading of an ordinance for the annexation of a 45-acre tract northeast of N. Market St. will be the main business before Council Monday night, according to Mayor Dean Stockman.

The scheduled third reading May 8 was postponed when Council heard of opposition to the annexation, and a special meeting was held Monday evening to allow opponents an opportunity to speak and two persons appeared.

Most of the tract is undeveloped and the owner, Robert Williams, president of the Lisbon Lumber Co., plans to make a residential allotment.

Councilman Raymond Dixon has been opposed, explaining he was not satisfied with the north boundary line in which half of road must be maintained by the village and half by Center Township trustees, if it is annexed.

Suspension Of Akron Air Service Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Airlines has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to suspend service at Akron, Ohio, temporarily, pending a CAB ruling on the airline's request to eliminate the service altogether.

American said that in view of the extension of Allegheny Airlines to Akron last August, continued American service to Akron on a route between Cleveland and Columbus would represent "wasteful competition."

trolman William A. Devon investigated.

Mrs. Kemple told police she apparently was unhurt but intended to go to a Columbiana physician to be checked for shock. Hawkins was cited on a charge of driving left of center and Tassi was charged with driving without an operator's permit.

Both Tassi and Hawkins were fined today by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff — Tassi $25 and costs and Hawkins $50 and costs.

Tassi pleaded guilty. Hawkins pleaded not guilty, but was convicted on the testimony of Officer Devon.

Hawkins said when he swerved into the wrong lane while trying to avoid the woman's auto he switched on his truck's headlights and sounded the horn repeatedly to warn oncoming traffic.

Judge Chertoff told Tassi if he obtains a new operator's permit by Wednesday it will be taken into consideration in possible mitigation of his fine. Tassi's permit expired March 27. He told the court he forgot to renew it.

The license carried notations of three prior convictions on traffic cases — before a juvenile court in 1957, in Parma Municipal Court in 1958 for speeding and in the same court last September for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

In another accident yesterday, a neon sign at a Harvey Ave. service station was knocked down when struck by a lumber-laden truck, officers said.

A sign at the Adkins Sohio Service, 1904 Harvey Ave., owned by Ruel Adkins, was damaged by a truck of the Adkins Lumber Co., 1802 Harvey Ave., officers said.

The truck driver, Thomas C. Durbin, 1901 Ohio Ave., told police he was pulling away from the curb when the truck hit the sign. He said he did not realize there was not enough clearance for the truck underneath the sign. The mishap was timed at 9:12 a.m.

One Of Crash Victims Still Listed As 'Poor'

One of two Carroll County women seriously injured in a Hammondsville car crash Wednesday remains in "poor" condition today at City Hospital.

Mrs. Rhoda Winters, 47, of Carrollton R.D. 1, driver of the car which skidded through a guardrail and hit a tree in County Rd. 50, continues "poor" with chest injuries, cuts of the knee and severe lacerations of the eye.

Mrs. Pearl Short, 30, of Carrollton R.D. 1, daughter of Mrs. Winters and passenger, is in "fair" condition with cuts of the forehead and eye, and her daughter, Susan Short, 5, is in "satisfactory" condition with a back injury.

2 Autoists Cited For Route 7 Mishap

Two drivers were cited on traffic charges after a three-car crash on Route 7, about a mile north of Toronto, Thursday at 9:15 a.m.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said George P. Borski, 39, of Toronto was slowing for traffic when his car was struck slightly by Victor O. Hunt, 44, of Bethesda. Hunt's car then was struck in the rear by Doyle Skidmore of Weirton.

Borski was cited on a charge of driving without an operator's license and Skidmore for failing to halt in the assured clear distance.

There were no injuries, and only moderate damage to the cars of Hunt and Skidmore and light damage to Borski's car, the patrol said.

Youth Held For Forgery

A 20-year-old Sandusky resident — a former resident of East Liverpool — was bound over to the Grand Jury under $1,500 bond today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge he passed a forged $30 check at a service station here last Nov. 29.

Walter Keith Bell pleaded guilty to the charge signed by Capt. Robert H. Pyle. Police said Bell was taken into custody Thursday by Patrolman Kenneth Mooney when he returned to East Liverpool to visit a girl friend.

The charge alleges that Bell forged a check for $30 on the First National Bank, listing himself as payee and signing the fictitious name "Mrs. James Dawson." He cashed the check at the Hays Oil Co., the charge says.

Asked about the woman whose name was signed to the check, Bell told Judge Samuel M. Chertoff no such person exists here. "I guess I'll have to plead guilty, there's no way out of it," he told the court. The judge warned Bell conviction on the charge carries a penalty of 1-20 years in the penitentiary.

Chief Americo Radeschi said officers are investigating the possibility Bell may have issued other fraudulent checks before leaving East Liverpool. Bell resided most of his life in East Liverpool and Wellsville, but went to Sandusky a few months ago to reside with an uncle, the chief said.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, vice chairman of the state Democratic committee and county chairman, will be toastmaster.

All county Democratic officials will attend.

State Patrol Arrests 3 In Truck Overload

EAST PALESTINE — Three truckers cited on overload charges by an Ohio Highway Patrol weight check crew on Route 14 this morning were fined a total of $105 and costs today by County Judge Herbert Arfman. Three others were fined Thursday.

Penalized this morning were Howard Rambo of Unity and Frank Hardman of New Gallilee, $25 and costs, and Tom Moore of Darlington, $55 and costs.

Cases yesterday were Frank Bagnoli of Youngstown and Todd Brant of Friedens, Pa., $25 and costs, and Harry Baker of Beaver Falls, $60 and costs.

3 Truck Operators Forfeit On Overloads

LISBON — Three truck operators forfeited appearance bonds on State Highway Patrol charges of overload Thursday in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court.

They were James D. Cramblett Jr., 27, of Carrollton, $53 and costs for 2,830 pounds overweight; Ellis Twaddle, 24, of Bergholz, $25 and costs for 1,530 pounds, and Tony Stasi, 55, of Campbell, $25 and costs, 1,310 pounds. Stasi also forfeited $20 for driving left of center.

Fire Association To Pay CD Costs

The Glenmoor Firemen's Association Thursday night authorized payment of insurance and operating expenses for the Civil Defense fire truck which has been housed at the fire station.

Firemen agreed to continue to house and pay the expenses for the truck that has been in the custody of the 31st Mobile Support Group, which is being deactivated.

The CD truck will be under the jurisdiction of the St. Clair Township trustees for five years, then will be placed up for auction, according to terms of an agreement.

In other action the firemen authorized remodeling of the department ambulance into a squad car because operating costs and insufficient use of the ambulance has made it economically impractical.

Keep An Eye On The Roads

There will be no cheering among the cities and townships of Ohio because the General Assembly has overridden Gov. DiSalle's veto of the additional $15 million of street and road funds to local subdivisions.

All of them will welcome any additional money they can get, of course, but many stand to gain nothing in the long run and, in fact, might lose under this ill-conceived legislation.

The $15 million that will be distributed to Ohio's 88 counties and its hundreds of townships and municipalities can do little good for each of them individually. But it will be $15 million taken from the State Highway Department's program. That $15 million could have been multiplied many times by federal matching funds on a 50-50 basis for federal highways and a 90-10 basis for interstate freeways.

The people on local subdivisions can be sure the highway department is not going to sacrifice any matching money. It will shear the $10 million off local projects. There is no telling what important projects throughout the state will be lost.

Sen. Kline L. Roberts, R-Columbus, proposed a $2.50 increase in the license plate fee to provide additional street and road money for the local governments. The Assembly's Republican leadership turned this down because of the GOP pre-election pledge of "no new taxes."

Sen. Roberts now is proposing a study of local street and road needs as a basis for a change in the formula by which gasoline tax and license money is distributed.

His proposal merits attention. The distribution formula long has needed change. The townships, which in many cases have desperate need for road money, receive a pittance. The cities do a little better, but not much.

As Mr. Roberts said, in an appeal to his fellow legislators to keep their sights on a long-range highway program:

"We are faced with a fantastic increase in population and in auto registration, which is growing faster than the population. We are faced with the problem of providing a highway system to handle this growth and the state's commerce in general. Now is not the time to slow down the complete highway system of federal, state and local roads."

Stop Short Of That First Step

The legislative strategy for the federal breakthrough into public education now has jelled.

Previous plans for the breakthrough were thrown into confusion when authoritative Catholic spokesmen announced they would oppose federal aid unless it embodied aid for their schools as well as public schools.

That made it apparent that the House of Representatives and the Senate would have to abandon the proposal, because as a matter of politics the United States obviously was not ready to assume any part of the support of parochial schools — Catholic or any other religious denomination.

The alternative was to separate the original issue from the issue that had been compounded by the Catholic spokesmen when they insisted on parochial school support. This has been done. There will be two bills.

Legislators will not have to settle the issue of parochial school support at the same time they settle the issue of federal aid to public schools. They will vote on the latter proposition first.

THIS IN ITSELF is a kind of trick to make legislators believe they are being given a happy alternative. Instead of being forced to vote on an issue that would be political dynamite, they are being let off easy.

All they will have to do now is vote to take away enough money from school districts already doing a first-class job in public education to spread a thin coating of federal pap over districts still in the shirt-tail-out stage of educational neglect. Many of these in southern states have been trying to support two school systems, one for whites, one for Negroes, and not doing a decent job on either one.

Is the time at hand when Americans must share educational poverty? Has the effort to keep at least one thing out of the hands of federal fixers and wheedlers and edict-issuers failed?

Let no one imagine if the first step is taken and local responsibility is watered down, with the result that everybody must run to Washington or put in a call for his representative and his senators to twist an arm in the right direction, that the second step won't follow — and a third — and a fourth. Eventually, full federal control would go with the federal purse, as it always does.

THE POSITION of the Catholic spokesmen when they blew the lid off the issue by demanding equal rights for parochial school pupils was that federal school money belonged to everybody if it belonged to anybody. Getting it would be, most assuredly, the second step in federal school aid.

The third step would be local surrender to the dominant taxing power. Support for local levies to finance schools would disappear. Nothing could be done until federal money had been obtained.

The fourth step would be federal control of school curriculums and eventually applicants for school-teaching jobs would be standing in line with applicants for federal grants, loans and federal scholarships for deserving students.

All students, of course, are deserving, but once let the federal government start handing out scholarships and some students will be more deserving than others — the ones whose fathers and mothers can flash credentials from the political boss back home.

Poor Excuse For Bad Practice

The General Assembly is trying to do something to cut down on illegal sales of liquor and beer to minors. It properly wants to place some of the burden on the minors themselves, subjecting them to prosecution as juvenile delinquents if they are caught buying liquor.

A bill designed to accomplish this objective was defeated in the House this week by one vote and is expected to be resurrected. But if it is passed as written it will not help much, because it would allow a tavern keeper to absolve himself of blame if he could prove the minor showed him an "official document" as proof of age.

An "official document" would be a driver's license or draft card on which age is shown.

Every police department in Ohio can tell the legislators that many minors who want to buy liquor or beer have no qualms against borrowing or stealing a driver's license or draft card to use as false evidence of age.

Borderline age cases have been a problem to Ohio tavern keepers for years. When a 20-year-old tells the bartender he is 21, or a 17-year-old swears he is 18, it is difficult for the bartender to judge in many instances.

But the vast majority of tavern keepers refuse to sell if they are in doubt. They would continue to do so under the new law.

The small minority of tavern keepers who don't care would have a new weapon to protect themselves if the House bill finally were enacted. Even though they might suspect a driver's license or draft card was phony, they would use it as their excuse and sell to the minor anyhow.

Some representatives argued vehemently in the House against this evasive device. The House, and ultimately the Senate, should support their view.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Included in Washington governmental operations there must be a big staff of bag packers. Cabinet needs a secretary of map studies to keep track of what country American officials are in.

Modern definition of word "Cabinet" is: A group of top public officials dedicated to modernization of Gulliver's Travels; assistants to the President whose duty it is to avoid being in the United States for anything but brief periods; men who are obligated to seem comfortable in Seven League Boots.

With Vice President Johnson in Thailand, Secretary Rusk in Bangkok, Oslo or Geneva and President Kennedy in Canada, Paris or even Moscow, daily question in Washington is "Who's minding the store?"

Life for our officials is one jet after another. Secretary of state is almost a foreign resident. They all look pretty weary and should be on TV instead of baseball stars pleading for a "bread that builds health 12 ways." (They might be satisfied with 11.)

It used to be comforting to be sure the President was regular White House occupant and that it was his genuine address. But he is Man in Motion. The letter carrier lost him long ago. Same goes for his Cabinet.

It is all for best but we wish for old days when we could imagine no signs on national leaders doors reading "Out of America. Returning Sooner or Later."

PEACE CORPS TESTS are being held in many cities. Some candidates are reported warlike over exam questions.

Free plugging of books over airwaves is approaching racket proportions. Harpo Marx has been on almost every big TV show waving new tome in sales pitch. . . . Not even Shakespeare got that much help.

Ex-President Eisenhower says he gets only 5 hours sleep a night even on the farm. After the strain he has been under for 20 years, this represents a triumph over insomnia.

Minnesota Supreme Court has ruled that truck driver who holds out hand to signal car to pass (you mean they ever do that!) is liable for damage suit if accident follows. When car was passing truck, it hit another car. Damage of $58,000 was awarded, court holding that "when a person has no duty to act but does act he becomes liable for negligence." This seems to licensed drivers to be inconsiderate.

Hatters Pioneer Plant Ownership

By Victor Riesel

The other day a labor leader, sitting just this side of "The Rocking Chair," told President Kennedy how at least one area was un-depressed by a do-it-yourself prosperity formula without the use of government money.

Victor Riesel

The visitor, President Alex Rose of the hat and millinery union also explained how 2½ years ago he had become chairman of the board of directors of a company which was about to be sold for scrap.

Now the company's new owners —the union members—will be told at a May 25 board of directors meeting that the firm is earning $3.40 a share, paying a $2 dividend, and can borrow a million dollars from any local bank. It pays the U.S. Treasury $100,000 in corporate taxes instead of taking money from Washington.

The firm which the union bought is the Merrimac Hat Co. of Amesbury, Mass. It is the biggest producer of ladies' felt and fur hat bodies in the land. But it wasn't always so.

During the winter of '58 the factory was shut down for three months by its previous owners. Business in the old plant had been hard hit by competition from France, Italy and Communist Czechoslovakia, no less.

In January '59, the plant was scheduled for liquidation.

THREE HUNDRED and 50 skilled union workers, out of a community of 10,000 New Englanders, would be without a trade or a job. Then Mr. Rose moved in with his United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union.

It raised half a million dollars. It became the biggest stockholder. Rose was named chairman of the board of nine directors. On it were placed six union officials. The workers themselves helped buy up the stock.

As Rose told President Kennedy, the union bought the firm on the theory that labor itself must do something for the jobless. It must not just wait for the government. Nor should it sit and meditate where capital finds it too risky to invest in a hard-hit marginal business.

At this point labor should make "welfare capital" available. Then there is a partnership between the working men in the plant and the local management.

How did this work? I asked the company president, Hans Rie, in Amesbury. He had been president and was retained by the new board of directors.

There was no difference in working for union or any other ownership, Mr. Rie said. Early in the new regime he had had some ideas on efficiency, piecework rates and wages. He had a long session with the local union committee. They were unhappy.

MR. RIE and the plant hat workers couldn't get together. But Rie told them point blank, "I'm employed here by shareholders and will manage this plant for the good of all and it will have to be the same whether the ownership rests in you, the union itself or some rich fellow in Boston."

They got the point. After that, there no longer was any feeling that "since the union owns it" there must be a special type of management. On contract negotiations, the bargaining has been tougher but the board of directors has not interfered with management.

"There is a limitation on how far you can go on wages," Rie said. "And as the old ownership did, the new board of directors examines the economics of the moment when contracts are up for bargaining with the local union.

"After policy is set, I get a free hand, and the international union does not interfere. Today, the workers' attitude is to cooperate with management and get out the best product possible."

THUS, when the stockholders meet on May 25, they will hear that the Merrimac Hat Co., purveyors of bonnets to hundreds of thousands of American women, now is hiring people, while some firms in Amesbury are laying off help.

They will hear that employment in 1960 reached a 12-year high. They will be told that the company ran so efficiently that the firm was able to absorb the rising cost of fur on the world market and still keep prices competitive because production was so smooth.

They will be told that Merrimac now has a million-dollar-a-year payroll, instead of more unemployment. But only half the stockholders will hear this, as the president of the company and the chairman of the board (their own union president) report. Most of the other stockholders will be busy working.

So well is the plant doing, it's on a two-shift schedule. That's a mighty long way from the scrap heap.

As Mr. Rose puts it, self-help goes a long way.

Irony In The Meeting

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The irony in a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting is that they can't possibly settle their most unsettling difference.

It's that determination of theirs to root around in each other's front yard.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev can't agree not to since communism is dedicated to gobbling up any place it can. Laos is the most recent example.

And, since President Kennedy is dedicated to stopping any such thing, he can't agree not to stop it.

They still have room for discussing a couple of other major problems, such as a ban on nuclear testing and disarmament.

But, unfortunately for the conversations and world peace, that is ironic too.

1. How, for instance, is the Soviet Union going to agree to ban tests so long as France, the American ally, keeps on developing atomic power and is free to test?

The French haven't shown any willingness not to.

2. And how, for instance, can this country agree not to test if Red China, the Soviet Union's ally develops atomic power, as it will, and starts testing?

Red China is not only a menace to the United States now but, when it gets atomic weapons, may be even a worse menace to the Soviet Union.

But as of this moment the United States, which doesn't officially recognize Red China, must pretend in international dealings it doesn't exist.

So, while Kennedy and Khrushchev can talk about a lot of things, none will be more important than those mentioned here—and they're not likely to settle any of them.

Already, before the two men get near each other, their meeting is being represented more as a feeling-out process than a meaty discussion.

And, if that's the way it is, Khrushchev will hardly try to demolish Kennedy as he did former President Eisenhower a year ago in Paris after the American U2 flight over the Soviet Union.

But it's going to be Khrushchev and not Kennedy who can afford to be cocky. All the recent setbacks have been on the American side, not on the Soviet Union's.

The Communist overrunning of Laos, for instance. The ridiculous American-backed invasion of Cuba, one of the biggest pieces of nonsense in the 20th Century.

And only this week the South Korean army, much to America's distaste, threw out the American-backed government for being corrupt.

The only saving grace here is that the new military regime says it's anti-Communist. And maybe it is.

But Korea can't stand too much of this instability—only a year ago the population tossed out American-backed President Syngman Rhee for tyranny—without encouraging Communist subversion from within if not attack from without.

And the Kennedy administration, even in the Western Hemisphere, is braced for more Castros and more Cubas.

If Kennedy knows that, then Khrushchev probably knows it better. This puts him in a position to high-hat the President a bit.

And if he does, it won't do American prestige, already badly dented and punctured this past year, any good.

Odd Facts

Radio-TV Censorship

By David Lawrence

FCC Chairman's Pressuring Seen Unrealistic

At a time when the entire world, with the exception of the Communist - bloc countries, is moving away from government control and state monopoly in television broadcasting, the United States under the Kennedy administration is moving toward government dictation.

David Lawrence

This may be due to the lack of business background among high officials inside the administration here, and particularly it may be due to the failure of the new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, Newton N. Minow, to understand the private enterprise system as it relates to broadcasting.

For, when Mr. Minow says that he wishes the broadcasting stations to alter their programs so as to cater more to the cultural and educational side, he fails to understand that radio and television are supported by the efforts of American businesses to get sales for their products.

The sponsors of TV programs pay large sums not only to cover the expense of the mechanical facilities of a broadcasting company but also the entire cost of actors, writers, technicians, producers and other personnel.

The companies which spend their money to sponsor programs naturally want sales so as to pay their own costs of production and their employes. The whole national output of $500 billion a year is directly related to how many and what kind of products will be bought by the public.

Television and radio go to a large degree to what is termed a mass audience. The sellers of products want as many potential purchasers as possible to listen to their messages.

There are, of course, some companies whose sales messages are of interest to a limited group and this includes what is known as goodwill or institutional or financial advertising. But, for the most part, the companies that use television are interested in reaching the maximum number of listeners.

SO, WHEN a government official comes along and says, in effect, that these companies should content themselves with smaller numbers of listeners, this is tantamount to saying that the advertisers should be content with a lack of effective results and should take the losses flowing from such a curtailed sales effort.

Unless, of course, private sponsors are willing to buy time for programs that will bring to them sales results to justify their expenditures, the television and radio stations will lose money and the government will have to subsidize them. This means political control and government interference with the operations of private business.

Interestingly enough, Great Britain, which started out with a government - owned and government - controlled television network, without any advertising, now is confronted with the full-fledged competition of a privately established network which not only takes advertising but today has the bigger audiences.

These programs are very much like American TV—in fact, some of the most popular are reruns of American TV shows. The same thing is happening in Canada, in Japan, in Mexico and in Latin America.

So it is surprising to see the head of the FCC in this country trying to turn the clock back. For it is inevitable that, if his threat is fulfilled — to take away station licenses unless they conform to his rules as to the programs that shall be broacast—then television in America will be paralyzed.

SOMEHOW many theorists who get into government do not understand the workings of the free-enterprise system.

Some people who have been applauding Mr. Minow's criticisms of television programs do not understand that program time cannot be paid for by the television companies themselves but only by the advertisers who are willing to buy time.

Mr. Minow has brought consternation to the whole television industry by his threat to use the government's licensing power to discipline radio and television stations for they themselves have no control over the money the advertisers want to spend for programs which can interest the maximum number of people.

The real answer to the cries of the eggheads and highbrows is to establish separate networks subsidized by the government—if no other way can be found to finance them. But no advertiser will spend his money wastefully. He will spend it only to get results in sales.

Letters To The Editor

As a citizen and a taxpayer of this county I have a right to know what conditions prevail at the County Home and to express my opinion about them.

As a trustee of the Columbiana County Mental Health Association, it is not only my right but also my duty to keep myself informed on what transpires there. Our association solicits contributions from the public. Part of these funds have been used, and, I believe, will continue to be used, to make life a little more pleasant for the inmates of the County Home. This, we hope, will help maintain or improve their mental health.

Our investigation of conditions at the home in 1959 brought to light some shocking revelations. However, everything we found unfavorable had been brought on gradually through many years of neglect. Everything we encountered that could be considered favorable or good was of recent origin.

The most heartening discovery we made was that our County Home was being supervised by a man and wife whom we found to be courteous, humane, efficient and above all honest in their cooperation with us. We most certainly listed Mr. and Mrs. Russell Phillis under the heading of "Assets".

Since then I have made it my business to keep informed on the many improvements that are being made at the home through the tireless efforts of Mr. Phillis. In his firm determination to better the living conditions of the people there, he has frequently encountered official opposition. Usually, this opposition has come from County Commissioner Frank Wilson.

Speaking only for myself, I feel that Commissioner Wilson has no right to place in jeopardy the welfare of the inmates of the County Home while conducting his one man campaign of vindictive harassment against Mr. Phillis.

While it is true that he "ranks" Mr. Phillis in the county government, he does so only as part of a three-man commission. When he takes it upon himself to act unilaterally and without the full approval of at least one other commissioner in his interference with the rules of the home as laid down by Mr. Phillis, he is clearly in the wrong. If he is convinced of the rightness of his attitude, let him proceed in an orderly way by prevailing on the Board of Commissioners to act.

In this cynical age of widespread contempt for the value of the taxpayer's dollar, we are fortunate indeed to have secured the services of public servants of the caliber of Mr. and Mrs. Phillis.

Mr. Wilson could certainly serve us to better advantage in some way other than by doing his utmost to make the work at the County Home so unpleasant for them that they might consider handing in their resignation.

Is this what he really wants? Does he have some political hack in mind for Mr. Phillis' position? I sincerely hope that Mr. and Mrs. Phillis will find the courage to withstand Mr. Wilson's personal animosity until such time as aroused public indignation will cause him to desist.

Keep An Eye On The Roads

There will be no cheering among the cities and townships of Ohio because the General Assembly has overridden Gov. DiSalle's veto of the additional $15 million of street and road funds to local subdivisions.

All of them will welcome any additional money they can get, of course, but many stand to gain nothing in the long run and, in fact, might lose under this ill-conceived legislation.

The $15 million that will be distributed to Ohio's 88 counties and its hundreds of townships and municipalities can do little good for each of them individually. But it will be $15 million taken from the State Highway Department's program. That $15 million could have been multiplied many times by federal matching funds on a 50-50 basis for federal highways and a 90-10 basis for interstate freeways.

The people on local subdivisions can be sure the highway department is not going to sacrifice any matching money. It will shear the $10 million off local projects. There is no telling what important projects throughout the state will be lost.

Sen. Kline L. Roberts, R-Columbus, proposed a $2.50 increase in the license plate fee to provide additional street and road money for the local governments. The Assembly's Republican leadership turned this down because of the GOP pre-election pledge of "no new taxes."

Sen. Roberts now is proposing a study of local street and road needs as a basis for a change in the formula by which gasoline tax and license money is distributed.

His proposal merits attention. The distribution formula long has needed change. The townships, which in many cases have desperate need for road money, receive a pittance. The cities do a little better, but not much.

As Mr. Roberts said, in an appeal to his fellow legislators to keep their sights on a long-range highway program:

"We are faced with a fantastic increase in population and in auto registration, which is growing faster than the population. We are faced with the problem of providing a highway system to handle this growth and the state's commerce in general. Now is not the time to slow down the complete highway system of federal, state and local roads."

Stop Short Of That First Step

The legislative strategy for the federal breakthrough into public education now has jelled.

Previous plans for the breakthrough were thrown into confusion when authoritative Catholic spokesmen announced they would oppose federal aid unless it embodied aid for their schools as well as public schools.

That made it apparent that the House of Representatives and the Senate would have to abandon the proposal, because as a matter of politics the United States obviously was not ready to assume any part of the support of parochial schools — Catholic or any other religious denomination.

The alternative was to separate the original issue from the issue that had been compounded by the Catholic spokesmen when they insisted on parochial school support. This has been done. There will be two bills.

Legislators will not have to settle the issue of parochial school support at the same time they settle the issue of federal aid to public schools. They will vote on the latter proposition first.

THIS IN ITSELF is a kind of trick to make legislators believe they are being given a happy alternative. Instead of being forced to vote on an issue that would be political dynamite, they are being let off easy.

All they will have to do now is vote to take away enough money from school districts already doing a first-class job in public education to spread a thin coating of federal pap over districts still in the shirt-tail-out stage of educational neglect. Many of these in southern states have been trying to support two school systems, one for whites, one for Negroes, and not doing a decent job on either one.

Is the time at hand when Americans must share educational poverty? Has the effort to keep at least one thing out of the hands of federal fixers and wheedlers and edict-issuers failed?

Let no one imagine if the first step is taken and local responsibility is watered down, with the result that everybody must run to Washington or put in a call for his representative and his senators to twist an arm in the right direction, that the second step won't follow — and a third — and a fourth. Eventually, full federal control would go with the federal purse, as it always does.

THE POSITION of the Catholic spokesmen when they blew the lid off the issue by demanding equal rights for parochial school pupils was that federal school money belonged to everybody if it belonged to anybody. Getting it would be, most assuredly, the second step in federal school aid.

The third step would be local surrender to the dominant taxing power. Support for local levies to finance schools would disappear. Nothing could be done until federal money had been obtained.

The fourth step would be federal control of school curriculums and eventually applicants for school-teaching jobs would be standing in line with applicants for federal grants, loans and federal scholarships for deserving students.

All students, of course, are deserving, but once let the federal government start handing out scholarships and some students will be more deserving than others — the ones whose fathers and mothers can flash credentials from the political boss back home.

Poor Excuse For Bad Practice

The General Assembly is trying to do something to cut down on illegal sales of liquor and beer to minors. It properly wants to place some of the burden on the minors themselves, subjecting them to prosecution as juvenile delinquents if they are caught buying liquor.

A bill designed to accomplish this objective was defeated in the House this week by one vote and is expected to be resurrected. But if it is passed as written it will not help much, because it would allow a tavern keeper to absolve himself of blame if he could prove the minor showed him an "official document" as proof of age.

An "official document" would be a driver's license or draft card on which age is shown.

Every police department in Ohio can tell the legislators that many minors who want to buy liquor or beer have no qualms against borrowing or stealing a driver's license or draft card to use as false evidence of age.

Borderline age cases have been a problem to Ohio tavern keepers for years. When a 20-year-old tells the bartender he is 21, or a 17-year-old swears he is 18, it is difficult for the bartender to judge in many instances.

But the vast majority of tavern keepers refuse to sell if they are in doubt. They would continue to do so under the new law.

The small minority of tavern keepers who don't care would have a new weapon to protect themselves if the House bill finally were enacted. Even though they might suspect a driver's license or draft card was phony, they would use it as their excuse and sell to the minor anyhow.

Some representatives argued vehemently in the House against this evasive device. The House, and ultimately the Senate, should support their view.

The Once Over

Included in Washington governmental operations there must be a big staff of bag packers. Cabinet needs a secretary of map studies to keep track of what country American officials are in.

Modern definition of word "Cabinet" is: A group of top public officials dedicated to modernization of Gulliver's Travels; assistants to the President whose duty it is to avoid being in the United States for anything but brief periods; men who are obligated to seem comfortable in Seven League Boots.

With Vice President Johnson in Thailand, Secretary Rusk in Bangkok, Oslo or Geneva and President Kennedy in Canada, Paris or even Moscow, daily question in Washington is "Who's minding the store?"

Life for our officials is one jet after another. Secretary of state is almost a foreign resident. They all look pretty weary and should be on TV instead of baseball stars pleading for a "bread that builds health 12 ways." (They might be satisfied with 11.)

It used to be comforting to be sure the President was regular White House occupant and that it was his genuine address. But he is Man in Motion. The letter carrier lost him long ago. Same goes for his Cabinet.

It is all for best but we wish for old days when we could imagine no signs on national leaders doors reading "Out of America. Returning Sooner or Later."

PEACE CORPS TESTS are being held in many cities. Some candidates are reported warlike over exam questions.

Free plugging of books over airwaves is approaching racket proportions. Harpo Marx has been on almost every big TV show waving new tome in sales pitch. . . . Not even Shakespeare got that much help.

Ex-President Eisenhower says he gets only 5 hours sleep a night even on the farm. After the strain he has been under for 20 years, this represents a triumph over insomnia.

Minnesota Supreme Court has ruled that truck driver who holds out hand to signal car to pass (you mean they ever do that!) is liable for damage suit if accident follows. When car was passing truck, it hit another car. Damage of $58,000 was awarded, court holding that "when a person has no duty to act but does act he becomes liable for negligence." This seems to licensed drivers to be inconsiderate.

Hatters Pioneer Plant Ownership

By Victor Riesel

The other day a labor leader, sitting just this side of "The Rocking Chair," told President Kennedy how at least one area was un-depressed by a do-it-yourself prosperity formula without the use of government money.

Victor Riesel

The visitor, President Alex Rose of the hat and millinery union also explained how 2½ years ago he had become chairman of the board of directors of a company which was about to be sold for scrap.

Now the company's new owners —the union members—will be told at a May 25 board of directors meeting that the firm is earning $3.40 a share, paying a $2 dividend, and can borrow a million dollars from any local bank. It pays the U.S. Treasury $100,000 in corporate taxes instead of taking money from Washington.

The firm which the union bought is the Merrimac Hat Co. of Amesbury, Mass. It is the biggest producer of ladies' felt and fur hat bodies in the land. But it wasn't always so.

During the winter of '58 the factory was shut down for three months by its previous owners. Business in the old plant had been hard hit by competition from France, Italy and Communist Czechoslovakia, no less.

In January '59, the plant was scheduled for liquidation.

THREE HUNDRED and 50 skilled union workers, out of a community of 10,000 New Englanders, would be without a trade or a job. Then Mr. Rose moved in with his United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union.

It raised half a million dollars. It became the biggest stockholder. Rose was named chairman of the board of nine directors. On it were placed six union officials. The workers themselves helped buy up the stock.

As Rose told President Kennedy, the union bought the firm on the theory that labor itself must do something for the jobless. It must not just wait for the government. Nor should it sit and meditate where capital finds it too risky to invest in a hard-hit marginal business.

At this point labor should make "welfare capital" available. Then there is a partnership between the working men in the plant and the local management.

How did this work? I asked the company president, Hans Rie, in Amesbury. He had been president and was retained by the new board of directors.

There was no difference in working for union or any other ownership, Mr. Rie said. Early in the new regime he had had some ideas on efficiency, piecework rates and wages. He had a long session with the local union committee. They were unhappy.

MR. RIE and the plant hat workers couldn't get together. But Rie told them point blank, "I'm employed here by shareholders and will manage this plant for the good of all and it will have to be the same whether the ownership rests in you, the union itself or some rich fellow in Boston."

They got the point. After that, there no longer was any feeling that "since the union owns it" there must be a special type of management. On contract negotiations, the bargaining has been tougher but the board of directors has not interfered with management.

"There is a limitation on how far you can go on wages," Rie said. "And as the old ownership did, the new board of directors examines the economics of the moment when contracts are up for bargaining with the local union.

"After policy is set, I get a free hand, and the international union does not interfere. Today, the workers' attitude is to cooperate with management and get out the best product possible."

THUS, when the stockholders meet on May 25, they will hear that the Merrimac Hat Co., purveyors of bonnets to hundreds of thousands of American women, now is hiring people, while some firms in Amesbury are laying off help.

They will hear that employment in 1960 reached a 12-year high. They will be told that the company ran so efficiently that the firm was able to absorb the rising cost of fur on the world market and still keep prices competitive because production was so smooth.

They will be told that Merrimac now has a million-dollar-a-year payroll, instead of more unemployment. But only half the stockholders will hear this, as the president of the company and the chairman of the board (their own union president) report. Most of the other stockholders will be busy working.

So well is the plant doing, it's on a two-shift schedule. That's a mighty long way from the scrap heap.

As Mr. Rose puts it, self-help goes a long way.

Irony In The Meeting

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The irony in a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting is that they can't possibly settle their most unsettling difference.

It's that determination of theirs to root around in each other's front yard.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev can't agree not to since communism is dedicated to gobbling up any place it can. Laos is the most recent example.

And, since President Kennedy is dedicated to stopping any such thing, he can't agree not to stop it.

They still have room for discussing a couple of other major problems, such as a ban on nuclear testing and disarmament.

But, unfortunately for the conversations and world peace, that is ironic too.

1. How, for instance, is the Soviet Union going to agree to ban tests so long as France, the American ally, keeps on developing atomic power and is free to test?

The French haven't shown any willingness not to.

2. And how, for instance, can this country agree not to test if Red China, the Soviet Union's ally develops atomic power, as it will, and starts testing?

Red China is not only a menace to the United States now but, when it gets atomic weapons, may be even a worse menace to the Soviet Union.

But as of this moment the United States, which doesn't officially recognize Red China, must pretend in international dealings it doesn't exist.

So, while Kennedy and Khrushchev can talk about a lot of things, none will be more important than those mentioned here—and they're not likely to settle any of them.

Already, before the two men get near each other, their meeting is being represented more as a feeling-out process than a meaty discussion.

And, if that's the way it is, Khrushchev will hardly try to demolish Kennedy as he did former President Eisenhower a year ago in Paris after the American U2 flight over the Soviet Union.

But it's going to be Khrushchev and not Kennedy who can afford to be cocky. All the recent setbacks have been on the American side, not on the Soviet Union's.

The Communist overrunning of Laos, for instance. The ridiculous American-backed invasion of Cuba, one of the biggest pieces of nonsense in the 20th Century.

And only this week the South Korean army, much to America's distaste, threw out the American-backed government for being corrupt.

The only saving grace here is that the new military regime says it's anti-Communist. And maybe it is.

But Korea can't stand too much of this instability—only a year ago the population tossed out American-backed President Syngman Rhee for tyranny—without encouraging Communist subversion from within if not attack from without.

And the Kennedy administration, even in the Western Hemisphere, is braced for more Castros and more Cubas.

If Kennedy knows that, then Khrushchev probably knows it better. This puts him in a position to high-hat the President a bit.

And if he does, it won't do American prestige, already badly dented and punctured this past year, any good.

Widest Range In Cabinet

Many Responsibilities Face Kennedy's Brother

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personally, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy likes to go bareheaded but officially he has acquired a number of hats and by virture of a 12-hour day and a six-day week, he is wearing all of them.

The special tasks assigned to him by his brother, the President, have given him the widest range of responsibilities of any Cabinet member.

Thus, in addition to running the Justice Department with its staff of 31,000 employes, Robert Kennedy is engaged with other high officials in a deep analysis of the Cuban invasion disaster.

Also, he now is in charge of organizing the most extensive effort ever made by the federal government to curb juvenile delinquency and youth crime.

The Justice Department's functions and enforcement duties include: antitrust law enforcement, the civil rights field, income tax evasion, interstate crime, all civil claims for and against the government, internal security, immigration, representation of the United States in the Supreme Court, legal advice for all other executive departments and agencies and administration of the federal prison system.

So the attorney general normally is a pretty busy man.

The additional duties which this 35-year-old attorney general has been called upon to assume clearly reflect the President's great confidence in him.

His recent assignment to look into U. S. intelligence machinery —which some have described as faulty in the recent Cuban affair— has led to speculation that he might be shifted to the Central Intelligence Agency on a permanent basis. This is emphatically denied by administration sources.

It is widely known that the attorney general also has carried out some other, less publicized assignments for the President, including White House liaison work on Capitol Hill. All this, obviously, takes organization—and a knack for ignoring the clock.

As to the latter, an assistant says: "Time means nothing to Bobby Kennedy. Given a job, he gets it done, regardless of the hours involved."

DiSalle Signs Cigarette Tax Bill And 12 Other Measures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If you and your spouse, between you, smoke three packs of cigarettes a day, you may save about $12 a year in federal income tax under a bill signed into law by the governor Thursday.

That estimate is based on $55 a year in state cigarette taxes—at the tax rate of 5 cents a pack—and a U.S. income tax rate of 20 per cent. But to get the saving you must itemize your deductions.

The bill merely revises the wording in the cigarette tax law so that it says the tax is collected directly from consumers. That's the only way a state tax is deductible on federal income tax returns.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle also signed 12 other acts into law. Among them are acts which:

Permit farmers to use small farm trucks as passenger cars for non-commercial purposes.

Permit the Ohio State University board of trustees to invest in real and personal property.

Require voting machines to have the capacity to accommodate five political parties, rather than nine, as now required.

Permit political subdivisions to issue 20-year bonds for sidewalks, curbs, gutters or street repair or street lighting. Bond limit has been 10 years.

Limit credit for seniority in a fireman's promotional examination to service in the municipal fire department and permit applicants who believe their examinations were graded in error to appeal to a city civil service commission.

Delete a requirement of law that book publishers file copies of their textbooks with the superintendent of public instruction.

Jailed City Man Fined $25 For Contributing

Herbert Eugene Robinson, 21, of 1785 Pennsylvania Ave. was fined $25 at a hearing Thursday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old city boy.

Robinson, sentenced to 15 days in the County Jail Monday by Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff for siphoning gasoline from a parked truck near the Horn Switch, was apprehended with the boy, who was also fined $25 and placed on probation with his parents.

Puts 1,384 On Jobs

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio State Employment Service's downtown Cleveland office has placed 1,384 persons in jobs since May 1, and calls this "the most encouraging placement figure since the recession started."

Nazi Strike At Yugoslavia Jews Bared

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann's commandos were geared to move at such lightning speed that they cracked down on Yugoslavia's Jews only two days after the German armies rolled in, a witness at Eichmann's trial testified today.

Alexander Arnon, 63, former Jewish leader in Croatia, testified that the German tanks smashed into Zagreb April 9, 1941, "at 3 o'clock in the afternoon."

"At five o'clock Croatian independence was declared under martial law," he continued.

"On April 11, the Gestapo came to the Jewish community, seized all the money and placed everyone under arrest."

Anti-Jewish measures ensued with rapidity until most of Yugoslavia's 75,000 Jews were caught in one net or another.

His testimony together with that of another survivor, Dr. Hinko Salz, 55, was presented to depict events in Yugoslavia rather than as direct evidence against the defendant charged with directing the extermination of Europe's Jewry in World War II.

The linkup was provided in documents offered by Dep. Atty. Gen. Ya'akov Bar'or. These Nazi files showed the German Embassy in occupied Yugoslavia prodded Berlin for help in deporting Jews and Eichmann himself was sent there to speed things up.

Beaver Local Board, Coach Aides To Meet

Talks with Thomas McCall and Floreal Suarez, Beaver Local assistant basketball coaches, are slated by the Board of Education at a meeting Monday night at 8 at the Public School.

The board plans shortly to name a replacement for Jack Frontone, who has resigned as head coach. The board is also slated to discuss hiring of new teachers and salaries for extra assignments for teachers, George VanHorne, executive head, said.

Calcutta Man Draws Fine

A Calcutta man, cited after a collision with another auto, was fined by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Thursday. Four other district drivers were among some 23 penalized.

Marko V. Steiner of Calcutta was fined $10 and costs for making an improper left turn which resulted in a recent collision.

Forfeiting $15 bonds for speeding were Richard A. Bosworth, 805 Alton St., and Jason Hyatt, 1701 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, and Everett J. Smith of Lisbon R.D. 1 and Robert E. Robb, 213 N. Beaver St., Lisbon.

William L. Stansbury, 157 Haywood St., was fined $10 and costs for passing on the curve and William Shallenberger of Wellsville R.D. 1 $5 and costs for driving left of center.

Ralph J. Smith of Lisbon R. D. 3 was fined $10 and costs for speeding, and Carl A. Osberg of New Waterford R.D. 1 $15 and costs for reckless operation.

4-H News

Plans to attend a skating party were made when the Cherokee 4-H Club met Monday night in the Grandview School in Lawrenceville.

The event will be held June 1 at the Melody Lane rink in Hookstown and the party is sponsored by the Hancock County 4-H Leaders' Association for benefit of 4-H Camp in July.

The club will sponsor a booth in the Lawrenceville volunteer firemen's carnival June 6-10. Linda Shroades, president, conducted business.

Demonstrations on projects were presented by Patty Hillyard, Cathy Brown, Phyllis Laughlin, Susan Brown and Norma Hoyt.

Miss Hoyt, a junior leader, will meet June 5 with 4-H'ers who will be charting at older camp to aid them with their books. They are Betty Wagner, Dianne Wright, Janice Allison and Polly Hoyt. Norma Hoyt received her charting pin in 1959.

Devotions were led by Diane Schladen. Lunch was served by Jack and Julie Grimes and Kathy Males.

Next meeting is June 12 with Mrs. Mary Schladen, leader. Project books are to be finished and turned in for grading.

Nancy Fergason was elected president of the 4-H Cookers Club at a meeting Tuesday night at Salineville High School.

She succeeds Pam Adams, who resigned.

The group made tomato soup and grilled cheese sandwiches. About 11 attended. Next meeting is May 31.

Widest Range In Cabinet

Many Responsibilities Face Kennedy's Brother

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personally, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy likes to go bareheaded but officially he has acquired a number of hats and by virture of a 12-hour day and a six-day week, he is wearing all of them.

The special tasks assigned to him by his brother, the President, have given him the widest range of responsibilities of any Cabinet member.

Thus, in addition to running the Justice Department with its staff of 31,000 employes, Robert Kennedy is engaged with other high officials in a deep analysis of the Cuban invasion disaster.

Also, he now is in charge of organizing the most extensive effort ever made by the federal government to curb juvenile delinquency and youth crime.

The Justice Department's functions and enforcement duties include: antitrust law enforcement, the civil rights field, income tax evasion, interstate crime, all civil claims for and against the government, internal security, immigration, representation of the United States in the Supreme Court, legal advice for all other executive departments and agencies and administration of the federal prison system.

So the attorney general normally is a pretty busy man.

The additional duties which this 35-year-old attorney general has been called upon to assume clearly reflect the President's great confidence in him.

His recent assignment to look into U. S. intelligence machinery —which some have described as faulty in the recent Cuban affair— has led to speculation that he might be shifted to the Central Intelligence Agency on a permanent basis. This is emphatically denied by administration sources.

It is widely known that the attorney general also has carried out some other, less publicized assignments for the President, including White House liaison work on Capitol Hill. All this, obviously, takes organization—and a knack for ignoring the clock.

As to the latter, an assistant says: "Time means nothing to Bobby Kennedy. Given a job, he gets it done, regardless of the hours involved."

DiSalle Signs Cigarette Tax Bill And 12 Other Measures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If you and your spouse, between you, smoke three packs of cigarettes a day, you may save about $12 a year in federal income tax under a bill signed into law by the governor Thursday.

That estimate is based on $55 a year in state cigarette taxes—at the tax rate of 5 cents a pack—and a U.S. income tax rate of 20 per cent. But to get the saving you must itemize your deductions.

The bill merely revises the wording in the cigarette tax law so that it says the tax is collected directly from consumers. That's the only way a state tax is deductible on federal income tax returns.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle also signed 12 other acts into law. Among them are acts which:

Permit farmers to use small farm trucks as passenger cars for non-commercial purposes.

Permit the Ohio State University board of trustees to invest in real and personal property.

Require voting machines to have the capacity to accommodate five political parties, rather than nine, as now required.

Permit political subdivisions to issue 20-year bonds for sidewalks, curbs, gutters or street repair or street lighting. Bond limit has been 10 years.

Limit credit for seniority in a fireman's promotional examination to service in the municipal fire department and permit applicants who believe their examinations were graded in error to appeal to a city civil service commission.

Delete a requirement of law that book publishers file copies of their textbooks with the superintendent of public instruction.

Jailed City Man Fined $25 For Contributing

Herbert Eugene Robinson, 21, of 1785 Pennsylvania Ave. was fined $25 at a hearing Thursday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old city boy.

Robinson, sentenced to 15 days in the County Jail Monday by Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff for siphoning gasoline from a parked truck near the Horn Switch, was apprehended with the boy, who was also fined $25 and placed on probation with his parents.

Puts 1,384 On Jobs

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio State Employment Service's downtown Cleveland office has placed 1,384 persons in jobs since May 1, and calls this "the most encouraging placement figure since the recession started."

Nazi Strike At Yugoslavia Jews Bared

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann's commandos were geared to move at such lightning speed that they cracked down on Yugoslavia's Jews only two days after the German armies rolled in, a witness at Eichmann's trial testified today.

Alexander Arnon, 63, former Jewish leader in Croatia, testified that the German tanks smashed into Zagreb April 9, 1941, "at 3 o'clock in the afternoon."

"At five o'clock Croatian independence was declared under martial law," he continued.

"On April 11, the Gestapo came to the Jewish community, seized all the money and placed everyone under arrest."

Anti-Jewish measures ensued with rapidity until most of Yugoslavia's 75,000 Jews were caught in one net or another.

His testimony together with that of another survivor, Dr. Hinko Salz, 55, was presented to depict events in Yugoslavia rather than as direct evidence against the defendant charged with directing the extermination of Europe's Jewry in World War II.

The linkup was provided in documents offered by Dep. Atty. Gen. Ya'akov Bar'or. These Nazi files showed the German Embassy in occupied Yugoslavia prodded Berlin for help in deporting Jews and Eichmann himself was sent there to speed things up.

Beaver Local Board, Coach Aides To Meet

Talks with Thomas McCall and Floreal Suarez, Beaver Local assistant basketball coaches, are slated by the Board of Education at a meeting Monday night at 8 at the Public School.

The board plans shortly to name a replacement for Jack Frontone, who has resigned as head coach. The board is also slated to discuss hiring of new teachers and salaries for extra assignments for teachers, George VanHorne, executive head, said.

Calcutta Man Draws Fine

A Calcutta man, cited after a collision with another auto, was fined by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Thursday. Four other district drivers were among some 23 penalized.

Marko V. Steiner of Calcutta was fined $10 and costs for making an improper left turn which resulted in a recent collision.

Forfeiting $15 bonds for speeding were Richard A. Bosworth, 805 Alton St., and Jason Hyatt, 1701 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, and Everett J. Smith of Lisbon R.D. 1 and Robert E. Robb, 213 N. Beaver St., Lisbon.

William L. Stansbury, 157 Haywood St., was fined $10 and costs for passing on the curve and William Shallenberger of Wellsville R.D. 1 $5 and costs for driving left of center.

Ralph J. Smith of Lisbon R. D. 3 was fined $10 and costs for speeding, and Carl A. Osberg of New Waterford R.D. 1 $15 and costs for reckless operation.

Job Dispute Time Allowed

LISBON — Additional time has been granted counsel for four Democrat - appointed Courthouse workers to file objections to a move by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw in the case of the 7th District Court of Appeals at Youngstown.

The Appellate Court Thursday advised county officials leave had been granted the counsel for the four women — who had won a court ruling concerning their right to pay — to file objections to a move by the prosecutor regarding "finding of facts" in the case.

Brokaw's move was filed April 28, and he had subsequently asked for a dismissal of the case because objections had not been filed within five days which he claimed a court ruling required.

The prosecutor charged the court's ruling to reinstate the four jobholders and provide them with back pay was made "without consideration of all the evidence."

In another case before the Ohio Supreme Court, Brokaw is seeking to have the state pay four Republican-appointees who have been working since Feb. 1 when the Democrats were released.

Papers Fight Bid To Boost Postal Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association today opposed postal rate increases sought by the administration.

The association told the House Post Office Committee "daily newspapers want no subsidy from the government in any form" but feel that fair rates can be set only after a realistic accounting of the public service work performed free or below cost by the mail service.

ANPA's position was set out in a statement filed with the committee by Ralph Nicholson, publisher of the Dothan (Ala.) Eagle and chairman of the association's postal committee.

Spokesmen for several other associations of daily and weekly newspapers advanced similar arguments. They submitted figures intended to show that the proposed increases in second-class postal rates, estimated to average 79 per cent, would work out to five- or six-fold increases in postal costs of some individual publications.

On the issue of services performed, Richard E. Morrison, speaking for the Inland Daily Press Association, said the Billings (Mont.) Gazette using truck delivery to post offices during 1960 spent $23,838 "for service originally furnished by the post office" and still paid its full postal bill. Morrison is general manager of Lee Newspapers, publishers of the Gazette and other Montana newspapers.

Guy Easterly, vice president of the National Editorial Association and publisher of the Weekly Press at Lafollette, Tenn., urged the committee to reject the philosophy that "the post office is a business, required to pay its way."

History makes clear that the post office shall be established as a service to the public, just as military forces are maintained for the people," he said. "Nobody worries about the 'Army deficit' or the 'Navy deficit.' NEA's position is that the service is worth what it costs the public."

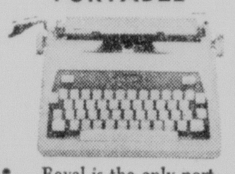

E. C. Hayhow, publisher of the Hillsdale (Mich.) News and also a spokesman for the Inland Daily Press Association, accused the Post Office Department of failing "to list properly its public service costs" and said the result was "to greatly overstate the amount of the postal deficit chargeable to second-class mail."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend and I broke up because he threw a lighted cigarette out the car window. He says I'm just too blame prissy. I say he's an undisciplined juvenile and plain inconsiderate. Incidentally, we're not teen-agers. I'm 24 and he's 26.

On our first date he tossed a beer can out the car window. Since then, every time we've gone out he has thrown something out of the car — an apple core, a newspaper, candy wrappers or chewing gum. Yesterday when he tossed the lighted cigarette (dry weather, incidentally) it triggered me — and we had a real fight.

Am I childish and petty, as he says, or is he stubborn? — MAD.

Dear Mad: He's more than stubborn. He's boorish, inconsiderate and also a law breaker. Many cities have laws against littering.

A lighted cigarette thrown from a moving car in the city could burn a pedestrian or land in a passing car. On the highway, especially in dry weather, it could start a forest fire.

Often it's the little things that give you the big clues to what a person is like. A word to the wise . . .

Beyond Call Of Duty

Dear Ann: I attended a luncheon recently and, being new in the city, I found several women there whom I never had met before.

The hostess introduced me to a nice-looking woman who was beautifully dressed. She announced with noticeable pride, "This is my sister."

Then she turned to a rather shabby-looking woman who was standing next to her and said half apologetically, "This is my half-sister. We have the same father but not the same mother."

I felt this unnecessary distinction was in very poor taste. My husband disagreed when I told him about it. He said it makes a big difference to some people and there's nothing wrong with mentioning it. What is your opinion? — NONPLUSED.

-:-

Dear Non: I don't go along with your husband. Such information does not belong in a social introduction. It was downright rude on the part of the hostess.

No one expects (or should get) a rundown on blood lines when he is meeting people for the first time.

Bride-Elect

Dear Ann: I need help—and fast. I've told a young man that I would marry him. He is shopping for the ring next week.

Frank is so wonderful that I feel I'm the luckiest girl alive. He is studying for the ministry and comes from a fine family of lawyers, doctors and clergymen.

The problem is this: My brother is a bum who has caused our family nothing but trouble. He served time both here and in Canada. The last we heard from him he was in San Quentin. That was four years ago.

I told my fiance I had a brother who was "out of the country." Should I tell him more? My father says no—it might ruin everything. I feel like a double-dealer. What's your advice? — LUCKY.

-:-

Dear Lucky: Tell him all about your brother. Guilt is personal and it doesn't rub off on relatives. If Frank is as wonderful as you say it won't make a bit of difference.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Jeff Chandler Is Reported As 'Critical'

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Jeff Chandler, who hitchhiked to Hollywood 16 years ago to fulfill a boyhood dream of movie stardom, is in critical condition today after a 7½-hour emergency operation to stop abdominal bleeding.

The graying 42-year-old actor was given multiple blood transfusions Thursday. He will be under close observation at Culver City Hospital at least until Saturday evening, a spokesman said.

The surgery followed an operation for a slipped spinal disc, suffered while filming "The Marauders" in the Philippine Islands a month ago. The 6-foot 4-inch, 200-pound star was given a series of injections to deaden nerves and lessen pressure while he completed the movie.

He was hospitalized after his return to Hollywood.

The actor's father, Philip Grossel, and Chandler's former wife Marjorie waited at the hospital. Several surgeons attended him.

Chandler, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., served in the Army during World War II. He hitchhiked to Hollywood after his discharge.

He got several radio acting jobs and his movie career was launched after a studio executive heard him in a radio thriller.

He achieved movie stardom in 1950 as the Indian chief Cochise in "Broken Arrow." A series of hit films followed.

The handsome actor was divorced a year ago after several separations. He has two daughters, Jamie, 14, and Dana, 11.

First Woman Named To Insurance Post

CHARLESTON (AP) — A 38-year-old mother of two young daughters has been given the job of supervising activities of insurance companies doing millions of dollars worth of business in West Virginia.

But Mrs. Virginia Mae Brown of Charleston, the state's first woman insurance commissioner in 14 years, carries somewhat more impressive credentials than those of an average housewife.

In addition to raising two preschool children, Victoria Ann, 5 years old and Pamela Kay, 1 year, Mrs. Brown has just finished working 10 years in the rather austere, book-lined offices of the State Attorney General's Office.

Among her published works was a story of the fall of France in 1942, entitled "With Love for France." She was the widow of Archibald K. K. Mackay, a member of an old New York family.

Akron, Canton Stores Cited In Injunction

CLEVELAND (AP)—A federal district judge has issued a temporary injunction ordering Surplus Stores, Inc., of Akron and Canton to stop selling ammunition at prices below those set by the manufacturer.

Suit was brought under the Ohio fair trade law by the Winchester-Western Division of Olin-Mathieson Corp. of New Haven, Conn. Judge James C. Connell granted the temporary order Thursday pending Ohio Supreme Court rulings on the constitutionality of the fair trade law. Hamilton County Common Pleas Court ruled the law unconstitutional and an appeal now is before the state's high court.

Fund Hits Record

CLEVELAND (AP) — A record collection of $5,431,680 was reported at the final meeting of the Jewish Welfare Fund Appeal Thursday night. That total is nearly $10,000 more than last year's record for the 57 years of the Jewish Community Federation sponsoring the annual campaign.

Preston Sets Another Look At Road Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Highway Department is going to take another look at its construction program, especially its cost - sharing plan with local governments. Director Everett S. Preston indicates the state may not be so "liberal" henceforth in sharing such costs.

Preston's directive Thursday to re-examine the construction program followed legislative passage of a bill which the director says will reduce available state revenue for highway building.

The bill will give Ohio's counties, cities and townships $15 million more a year from motor vehicle license fees to help them with street and road work. The General Assembly overrode Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's veto of the measure.

Preston said his department will try to make sufficient state funds available to match all federal aid for highways, but he was not optimistic.

However, as the first step in this try he ordered a study of the current cost-sharing formula with local governments on construction projects.

He also called a temporary halt to such agreements with local governments until the sharing formula study is completed.

They were sentenced Friday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Industry Hits Sewage Plan

Petitions are being circulated among residents of Industry Borough, opposing the sewage system proposed by Bridgewater and Beaver, it was announced at a meeting of Industry Council Wednesday night in the borough building.

Calvin Dunlap, president, reported that letters have been sent to assemblymen H. B. Cline and Charles Stone, Sen. John Miller, Gov. David Lawrence, Rep. R. K. Hamilton of the 2nd District, and Eli Corak of Midland, Democratic chairman of Beaver County, asking their help in opposing the building of the sewage system in Industry.

Council passed a health ordinance prohibiting the accumulation or dumping of garbage and refuse in the borough and for establishment and maintenance of public or private dumps within borough limits. The legislation defines various districts and provides penalties for violation.

A resolution was adopted providing for fees for building permits for residential, commercial and industrial structures. The fees remain the same with the exception of structures $100,000 and over. This maximum fee is $100.

Mat Bertovic, utilities chairman, reported that a representative of the Duquesne Light Co. is completing a survey of street lighting in the borough and will meet with the utilities committee to discuss lighting needs.

Next meeting is June 7 in the borough building.

Navy Seeks Men In Nuclear Field

Chief James M. Pattison, in charge of the Navy Recruiting Station at City Hall, said today there is an urgent need for high school graduates who are interested in service in the nuclear field (mechanical-electrical) and Polaris field (launcher-electronics).

As most of the men enlisted in the two fields eventually will serve on submarines, they must meet the requirements for submarine training in addition to enlistment qualifications, the recruiter said.

The training cycle for applicants in the nuclear field is: Recruit training, basic specialty school, submarine school — if applicable—sea duty for six months, nuclear power training and then assignment on a nuclear power submarine or surface ship. The training for Polaris field applicants is basically the same.

As the nuclear Polaris submarine program has just been accelerated, chances for advancement in either field have been increased greatly, Pattison said. Further information is available at the recruiting office at City Hall.

Lorin Ruff, Columbiana County elementary school supervisor, was the pronouncer. The judges were Mrs. Lydia Brooks, second-grade teacher, and Donald Campbell, principal.

Exiles In Favor Of Castro Offer About Captives

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban exiles today favored taking up Fidel Castro's offer to free invasion captives for 500 American bulldozers, but they differed on who should do it.

An anti-Castro schoolteachers organization pledged $800—$1 for each member—Thursday toward buying the bulldozers. It scheduled a Saturday meeting to form a prisoners exchange committee.

The Revolutionary Schoolteachers Directorate said, "We accept Fidel Castro's challenge, but it will not be President Kennedy but the people of Cuba who will send the bulldozers."

A Cuban editor in exile had a different reaction.

Sergio Carbo, editor of Prensa Libre, said the United States should take up Castro's offer at once.

"All free citizens of the Americas have faith that Mr. Kennedy will take Castro's offer into consideration without delay," Carbo said.

Cuba holds about 1,000 men, mostly Cuban exiles, captured in the abortive April 17 invasion.

Equipment dealers say 500 bulldozers would cost $6 million to $27 million, depending on the model chosen.

Jose Miro Cardona, president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council which recruited the invasion force asked the International Red Cross to look into the Castro proposal.

Man Drowns In Bid To Pose With His Fish

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"Take my picture with the fish," said Edward J. Kamar. Then, apparently to pose, he stepped backward on a partyboat dock, fell into Biscayne Bay and drowned.

Kamar, 52, of Brooklyn, N.Y., had caught a 50-pound dolphin on a excursion which had just ended. "He was really proud of that fish," a boat crewman said.

Mrs. Carpenter also reported 63 visits to homes in connection with her work in child and adult health.

How food fads can fool you

We don't mean there's anything wrong with eating yogurt and wheat germ and so on. They are fine, healthful foods. But here's the rub. Advocates of some food fads promise benefits that diet alone can't deliver. Occasionally, someone with a medical problem will try to solve it by living mostly on cabbage juice or some such thing. Special foods and diets, however, have limitation—can be harmful when improperly used. So if you think there's anything wrong with you, by all means see your physician.

Papers Fight Bid To Boost Postal Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association today opposed postal rate increases sought by the administration.

The association told the House Post Office Committee "daily newspapers want no subsidy from the government in any form" but feel that fair rates can be set only after a realistic accounting of the public service work performed free or below cost by the mail service.

ANPA's position was set out in a statement filed with the committee by Ralph Nicholson, publisher of the Dothan (Ala.) Eagle and chairman of the association's postal committee.

Spokesmen for several other associations of daily and weekly newspapers advanced similar arguments. They submitted figures intended to show that the proposed increases in second-class postal rates, estimated to average 79 per cent, would work out to five- or six-fold increases in postal costs of some individual publications.

On the issue of services performed, Richard E. Morrison, speaking for the Inland Daily Press Association, said the Billings (Mont.) Gazette using truck delivery to post offices during 1960 spent $23,838 "for service originally furnished by the post office" and still paid its full postal bill. Morrison is general manager of Lee Newspapers, publishers of the Gazette and other Montana newspapers.

Guy Easterly, vice president of the National Editorial Association and publisher of the Weekly Press at Lafollette, Tenn., urged the committee to reject the philosophy that "the post office is a business, required to pay its way."

History makes clear that the post office shall be established as a service to the public, just as military forces are maintained for the people," he said. "Nobody worries about the 'Army deficit' or the 'Navy deficit.' NEA's position is that the service is worth what it costs the public."

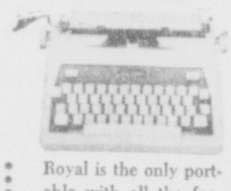

E. C. Hayhow, publisher of the Hillsdale (Mich.) News and also a spokesman for the Inland Daily Press Association, accused the Post Office Department of failing "to list properly its public service costs" and said the result was "to greatly overstate the amount of the postal deficit chargeable to second-class mail."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend and I broke up because he threw a lighted cigarette out the car window. He says I'm just too blame prissy. I say he's an undisciplined juvenile and plain inconsiderate. Incidentally, we're not teen-agers. I'm 24 and he's 26.

On our first date he tossed a beer can out the car window. Since then, every time we've gone out he has thrown something out of the car — an apple core, a newspaper, candy wrappers or chewing gum. Yesterday when he tossed the lighted cigarette (dry weather, incidentally) it triggered me — and we had a real fight.

Am I childish and petty, as he says, or is he stubborn? — MAD.

Dear Mad: He's more than stubborn. He's boorish, inconsiderate and also a law breaker. Many cities have laws against littering.

A lighted cigarette thrown from a moving car in the city could burn a pedestrian or land in a passing car. On the highway, especially in dry weather, it could start a forest fire.

Often it's the little things that give you the big clues to what a person is like. A word to the wise . . .

Beyond Call Of Duty

Dear Ann: I attended a luncheon recently and, being new in the city, I found several women there whom I never had met before.

The hostess introduced me to a nice-looking woman who was beautifully dressed. She announced with noticeable pride, "This is my sister."

Then she turned to a rather shabby-looking woman who was standing next to her and said half apologetically, "This is my half-sister. We have the same father but not the same mother."

I felt this unnecessary distinction was in very poor taste. My husband disagreed when I told him about it. He said it makes a big difference to some people and there's nothing wrong with mentioning it. What is your opinion? — NONPLUSED.

-:-

Dear Non: I don't go along with your husband. Such information does not belong in a social introduction. It was downright rude on the part of the hostess.

No one expects (or should get) a rundown on blood lines when he is meeting people for the first time.

Bride-Elect

Dear Ann: I need help—and fast. I've told a young man that I would marry him. He is shopping for the ring next week.

Frank is so wonderful that I feel I'm the luckiest girl alive. He is studying for the ministry and comes from a fine family of lawyers, doctors and clergymen.

The problem is this: My brother is a bum who has caused our family nothing but trouble. He served time both here and in Canada. The last we heard from him he was in San Quentin. That was four years ago.

I told my fiance I had a brother who was "out of the country." Should I tell him more? My father says no—it might ruin everything. I feel like a double-dealer. What's your advice? — LUCKY.

-:-

Dear Lucky: Tell him all about your brother. Guilt is personal and it doesn't rub off on relatives. If Frank is as wonderful as you say it won't make a bit of difference.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Jeff Chandler Is Reported As 'Critical'

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Jeff Chandler, who hitchhiked to Hollywood 16 years ago to fulfill a boyhood dream of movie stardom, is in critical condition today after a 7½-hour emergency operation to stop abdominal bleeding.

The graying 42-year-old actor was given multiple blood transfusions Thursday. He will be under close observation at Culver City Hospital at least until Saturday evening, a spokesman said.

The surgery followed an operation for a slipped spinal disc, suffered while filming "The Marauders" in the Philippine Islands a month ago. The 6-foot 4-inch, 200-pound star was given a series of injections to deaden nerves and lessen pressure while he completed the movie.

He was hospitalized after his return to Hollywood.

The actor's father, Philip Grossel, and Chandler's former wife Marjorie waited at the hospital. Several surgeons attended him.

Chandler, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., served in the Army during World War II. He hitchhiked to Hollywood after his discharge.

He got several radio acting jobs and his movie career was launched after a studio executive heard him in a radio thriller.

He achieved movie stardom in 1950 as the Indian chief Cochise in "Broken Arrow." A series of hit films followed.

The handsome actor was divorced a year ago after several separations. He has two daughters, Jamie, 14, and Dana, 11.

First Woman Named To Insurance Post

CHARLESTON (AP) — A 38-year-old mother of two young daughters has been given the job of supervising activities of insurance companies doing millions of dollars worth of business in West Virginia.

But Mrs. Virginia Mae Brown of Charleston, the state's first woman insurance commissioner in 14 years, carries somewhat more impressive credentials than those of an average housewife.

In addition to raising two preschool children, Victoria Ann, 5 years old and Pamela Kay, 1 year, Mrs. Brown has just finished working 10 years in the rather austere, book-lined offices of the State Attorney General's Office.

Harold II was the last Anglo-Saxon king of England.

2 County Legislators Vote To Override DiSalle's Veto

State Rep. Clarence Wetzel and Rep. Warren Bettis, Republicans, voted together to override Gov. Michael DiSalle's veto of a bill increasing local highway funds, while State Sen. Arthur Blake and Sen. Edmund Sargus, Democrats, split in the upper-house voting on the measure.

Sargus voted against the move which shifts some $15 million in motor vehicle license fees from the highway department to local subdivisions. Blake supported the move to override the veto.

Wetzel and Bettis voted against bills to reorganize local health districts, requiring slow moving vehicles to carry red signals and to tighten laws on minors and provide a defense for tavern owners in liquor sales, all of which were defeated. Both voted in favor of a move to reconsider the minor liquor sales, all of which were defeated. Both voted in favor of a move to reconsider the minor liquor sales bill which was approved.

Wetzel voted for measures to ban the sale of autos on Saturday or Sunday and to require seat belt brackets on new cars—both of which passed. Bettis did not vote.

Sargus and Blake voted in favor of bills to relax hour limits on female employes of auto clubs and to permit establishment of community junior colleges, both of which passed, and voted against a measure to tighten certain requirements in workmen's compensation, which also passed.

Power Plant Contracts Let

EAST PALESTINE — Contracts totaling $133,418 for part of the first-phase improvement project at the city power plant were awarded Thursday by the Board of Control.

Contract for electric switchgear was signed with the Federal Pacific Electric Co. of Cleveland, whose bid of $46,500 was lowest of six received earlier this month.

Other contract winners were the J. G. Madden & Sons of East Palestine, for construction of an annex at the plant to house the switchgear. The cost will be $21,339, lowest of four bids.

Officer Studies Appeal Of City's Dismissal Order

William E. Nott, ordered removed from his police patrolman's post Monday on grounds of "ineffficiency," said today he still is studying the possibility of an appeal to the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Nott's removal was ordered by Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver on charges initiated by Chief Americo Radeschi. The chief charged formally that Nott had been off duty because of illness for 315 days in 52 months.

The chief's original order suspended the officer. After investigating the case, the director ordered the removal.

Nott said he understands state law allows him 10 days after the removal order to file an appeal with the Civil Service Commission. He said the deadline is next Thursday. Nott was appointed to the force in May 1956.

Court Dismisses Assault Charges

A charge his wife filed after a spat last October came back to haunt a former East Liverpool man today in Municipal Court, although the couple has been reconciled and now lives in New York City.

Ronald Dunn, formerly of Avondale St., was taken before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge signed by his wife, Doris, alleging that he struck her Oct. 25. Dunn pleaded not guilty.

Questioning by the judge brought this story from the defendant: His wife filed the charge last October while the couple resided on Avondale St. About a week later he moved to New York to take a job and his wife joined him after an interval. He was jailed on the old charge when he returned to East Liverpool a few days ago to take a job as a structural iron worker.

"She told me there was a charge down here, but I didn't believe her," Dunn told the court. After discovering the couple has resided together since shortly after the charge was filed, the judge dismissed the affidavit.

Youth Cited On Return Of Missing Car

An 18-year-old Klondyke youth removed a car from a neighbor's garage Thursday and drove it around through the East Liverpool-Wellsville district for four hours without being apprehended, but was nabbed when he attempted to return the auto to the garage in mid-afternoon, police said.

David Bailey, 1798 Michigan Ave., is scheduled for a hearing at 3:30 this afternoon before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, accused of driving an auto without the owner's consent.

Police said Bailey took a 1957 four-door sedan owned by David F. Beatty, 1936 Michigan Ave., about 11:40 yesterday morning. When he returned the car at 3:33 p. m., a neighbor spotted him and notified Beatty, who nabbed the youth and held him for the arrival of police. Patrolman Orin C. Smith took him into custody.

The car carried a full tank of gasoline at the time it was taken, police said. Officers said there is possible damage to the front end of the car.

Capt. Robert H. Pyle said Bailey admitted driving the auto east through Klondyke and then via the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. to Calcutta. He drove to Wellsville, then returned to East Liverpool and drove up St. Clair Ave. to Calcutta, returning to Klondyke via the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. and Harvey Ave., the youth told police.

Officers Detain 2 Girl Escapees

Two girl runaways from a Pennsylvania institution were taken into custody in East Liverpool this morning after one was taken ill while in the restroom of a service station and fell and injured her head, police reported.

Police identified the escapees as Harriet Cobley, 20, and her companion, 16. Questioned by police, the two said they escaped May 11 from Laurelton State Village, an institution near Mecklenberg, Pa. They are being held for Pennsylvania authorities.

Miss Cobley fell about 8:15 a. m. in the Potters Service Station at E. 3rd St. and Broadway, striking her head on a washbowl. An attendant notified police. Miss Cobley was taken to City Hospital for treatment of a laceration over the right eye.

Questioned by police, the two admitted they are escapees. They said they hitch-hiked and walked for over a week, getting only as far as East Liverpool.

The number of popular votes cast in the 1960 presidential election in the neighborhood of 67 million, was the largest in U. S. history.

what's new at Olsen's?

Fashions For the Graduate

"Ollie Olsen"

Here they come! . . . the class of '61 in their memory making dresses. Each one more lovely than the next. Each one looking forward to graduation and a whirl of summer activities. Fashions for the girl who is just embarking into a brand new world. Fashions for career or campus. Tailored dresses, dressy dresses, and cocktail dresses. All of them add up to make her last days in school the most memorable of her life.

Dresses for Commencement, Baccalaureate, or any of your important events . . . Olsen's have them all. Dazzling cottons, so light in fabric, to wear under your robe the night of Commencement. Slim sheaths to flatter your figure. Our favorite is one that is embroidered white on white. Then there's a cute one that has dainty white lace on the deep cut neck and shoulders.

There's the pretty pastels in drip-dry fabrics, too. As fresh as lemon frost with lovely accents of white. Yes, the spirit of youth is in these lovely cottons found at Olsen's. Sheaths, whirling full skirts, crop tops, and baby doll sleeves, all to make you look as pretty as a picture. They are in the loveliest colors, too . . . Pink, Powder, Maize, Lilac and Mint. At the wonderful low price of 10.79. If you can talk Dad into more, there's some more beauties at 13.79 in sizes 5-15 and 10-18.

There's always the gift for the Graduate that is most important. Every young girl looks forward to those last days of school, before she embarks on a new career. What nicer gift than a piece of luggage — for that matter, a starter set that has additional pieces, which can be bought for all the important anniversaries or holidays to come. We're speaking of the American Tourister "Tri-Taper". What a varied selection as to color and extra pieces.

"Tri Taper" is—wonderful beyond your dreams . . . smarter . . . stronger . . . lighter . . . roomier. Look at it! Thrill to the contoured beauty of "Tri Taper's" unique one-piece construction. LIFT IT! Feel for yourself, it's actually pounds lighter, size for size, then any other luggage because it's made without framework. PACK IT! Discover delightedly that it holds 25% more than similar cases—and how fresh and unruffled your clothes remain! USE IT! Learn how "Tri Taper's" reinforced shell with super-tough Permanite covering surpasses all other luggage in withstanding thumps and scuffs, and how "Tri Taper's" exclusive interlocking Stainless Steel Closures repel dust and damp and defy distortion. By every standard, "Tri Taper" is wonderful beyond your dreams . . . luggage you'll be proud to own. Priced from 18.95 up.

Another gift young girls always welcome is lingerie. Have you seen the adorable baby doll pj's in Olsen's lingerie department? Dozens of styles to choose from at a price that will fit any budget. There's one that is really "Dream Stuff". The most feminine looking pj you've ever seen. Fashioned of nylon with a front overlay of chiffon, scoop neck with dainty embroidered flowers and small satin bows on the shoulders. Dainty little ruffle panties peep from under a lace trim shorty top. In the dreamiest colors . . . Mint, Maize, Pink, and Blue. Priced only at 3.88. Be sure to see these. You'll fall in love with them just as we did.

Remember Olsen's are open every night until nine for your shopping pleasure. That's all today . . . See you next Friday.

William E. Nott, ordered removed from his police patrolman's post Monday on grounds of "ineffficiency," said today he still is studying the possibility of an appeal to the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Nott's removal was ordered by Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver on charges initiated by Chief Americo Radeschi. The chief charged formally that Nott had been off duty because of illness for 315 days in 52 months.

The chief's original order suspended the officer. After investigating the case, the director ordered the removal.

Nott said he understands state law allows him 10 days after the removal order to file an appeal with the Civil Service Commission. He said the deadline is next Thursday. Nott was appointed to the force in May 1956.

Court Dismisses Assault Charges

A charge his wife filed after a spat last October came back to haunt a former East Liverpool man today in Municipal Court, although the couple has been reconciled and now lives in New York City.

Ronald Dunn, formerly of Avondale St., was taken before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge signed by his wife, Doris, alleging that he struck her Oct. 25. Dunn pleaded not guilty.

Questioning by the judge brought this story from the defendant: His wife filed the charge last October while the couple resided on Avondale St. About a week later he moved to New York to take a job and his wife joined him after an interval. He was jailed on the old charge when he returned to East Liverpool a few days ago to take a job as a structural iron worker.

"She told me there was a charge down here, but I didn't believe her," Dunn told the court. After discovering the couple has resided together since shortly after the charge was filed, the judge dismissed the affidavit.

Youth Cited On Return Of Missing Car

An 18-year-old Klondyke youth removed a car from a neighbor's garage Thursday and drove it around through the East Liverpool-Wellsville district for four hours without being apprehended, but was nabbed when he attempted to return the auto to the garage in mid-afternoon, police said.

David Bailey, 1798 Michigan Ave., is scheduled for a hearing at 3:30 this afternoon before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, accused of driving an auto without the owner's consent.

Police said Bailey took a 1957 four-door sedan owned by David F. Beatty, 1936 Michigan Ave., about 11:40 yesterday morning. When he returned the car at 3:33 p. m., a neighbor spotted him and notified Beatty, who nabbed the youth and held him for the arrival of police. Patrolman Orin C. Smith took him into custody.

The car carried a full tank of gasoline at the time it was taken, police said. Officers said there is possible damage to the front end of the car.

Capt. Robert H. Pyle said Bailey admitted driving the auto east through Klondyke and then via the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. to Calcutta. He drove to Wellsville, then returned to East Liverpool and drove up St. Clair Ave. to Calcutta, returning to Klondyke via the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. and Harvey Ave., the youth told police.

Officers Detain 2 Girl Escapees

Two girl runaways from a Pennsylvania institution were taken into custody in East Liverpool this morning after one was taken ill while in the restroom of a service station and fell and injured her head, police reported.

Police identified the escapees as Harriet Cobley, 20, and her companion, 16. Questioned by police, the two said they escaped May 11 from Laurelton State Village, an institution near Mecklenberg, Pa. They are being held for Pennsylvania authorities.

Miss Cobley fell about 8:15 a. m. in the Potters Service Station at E. 3rd St. and Broadway, striking her head on a washbowl. An attendant notified police. Miss Cobley was taken to City Hospital for treatment of a laceration over the right eye.

Questioned by police, the two admitted they are escapees. They said they hitch-hiked and walked for over a week, getting only as far as East Liverpool.

The number of popular votes cast in the 1960 presidential election in the neighborhood of 67 million, was the largest in U. S. history.

Norma Prefers Boone To Money

Norma Crane would walk over hot coals for a chance to act in any of Dick Boone's "Have Gun, Will Travel" shows. On Saturday the rangy blond from El Paso, Tex., plays the uncouth, pathetic Calamity Jane for Dick.

Hal Humphrey

His budget for such a role is $750 top, which is several times under Norma's current salary peg. "I do it because there's an atmosphere of freedom on Dick's set, and everyone has the right to discuss every problem," explains Norma. "It's about the one place left in Hollywood where an actor can really act."

This makes the fifth time she has appeared on Boone's Western. Her agent is repulsed at the idea of 10 per cent of $750, but Norma blackmails him by threatening to lock herself up in an off-Broadway play for six months at scale if she's denied the privilege of working for Boone.

-:-

YOU MAY HAVE GUESSED that Norma broke into her acting career in New York. She studied at Actors Studio and made her mark in the early '50s when "live" TV was booming in Gotham. When those days ended, Norma became part of the Exodus to Hollywood so that she could continue eating, as well as acting.

"What bugs you about working in Hollywood?" I ask, naively.

"It's this attitude of hurry up and get it done," she replies. "On a New York set, the crew and cast watch you act. Here the makeup man is sprawled in a chair, reading the Wall Street Journal. During a break he's conning you into buying a $200 ticket to something.

"In New York, the hairdresser may say, 'This Castro thing bothers me.' Here she'll probably say, 'Honey, you heard Elvis Presley's latest swingin' record? See these earrings, honey? Elvis gave 'em to me. He's a sweet kid.'

-:-

"I LIKE NEW YORK because it's like a small town for actors. You know people and walk down the streets with them. You get arrested if they catch you walking anywhere here.

"Another thing — nobody is happy with himself in Hollywood. They all want to be Liz Taylor or Marlon Brando."

Norma has decided that most of the writers in Hollywood hate women. This is her explanation for so many women's appearing on TV as no-good, murdering minxes. She recently did a cold-hearted wench on "The Untouchables." In one scene, if you recall, Norma ordered her husband (played by Larry Parks) to machine gun a fellow as he tried to crawl up a roadside embankment.

"I THOUGHT the whole story made me too tough, but somebody who had better remain nameless came to me and said, 'Norma, you've got to see the finished print — you're great!' There's a word that gets overworked in this town, huh?"

Norma prefers to be her own critic. She was cast as Wally Cox's girl friend in the first five episodes of the old (1953) "Mr. Peepers" series. She didn't pan out and was told she came on a bit too strong to play opposite Wally. Also the producer decided to play the relationship more for romance than comedy, as originally intended.

"But I knew what they were trying to tell me — simply that I was fired because I wasn't any good," says Norma.

"This is another reason I like doing 'Have Gun.' Dick Boone is a real star. You can tell him things and he listens. He may tell you you're nutty, or he may decide later that you were right.

-:-

"THE IMPORTANT THING is that every show he does is a try. Dick never puts down a show, no matter if it takes another whole day.

"When they told me about this Calamity Jane role, I didn't even have to see the script. It's the only show I'd do without a script, though.

"There was one other, but it's folding. 'One Step Beyond' you could trust because John Newland directed it, but when anyone else says, 'Trust me, this script is great,' I run the other way."

Norma is getting ready to run off to El Paso for a few weeks soon.

"Every once in a while I have to go back there to find the earth," she says.

Army Hints No Delay On Pershing Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army does not expect failure of the latest Pershing flight to delay the test program of the tactical missile.

One of the 34-foot rockets was destroyed in flight by the range safety officer Thursday night when the second stage did not ignite. It was only the third failure in 16 Pershing launchings.

"Any missile test program expects failures," an official commented. "We've had a good record with Pershing, and there's no reason to believe we won't meet our operational date of early next year."

The missile was aimed at a target 250 miles down range. The Pershing is being developed as a mobile field weapon with range of 50 to 700 miles.

1 Killed, 2 Injured On Dead Man's Curve

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. William R. McClintick, 59, of Wickliffe, was killed in a two-car collision on Dead Man's Curve on Ohio 44 three miles north of here Thursday. Sheriff's deputies said Lawrence Hathaway, 68, of Canton apparently hit the brakes as he rounded the curve and his car swerved across the center line into the path of Mrs. McClintick's car. Hathaway and his passenger, Marie Wineinger, 65, of Kansas City, are in the hospital here.

Dead Man's Curve was so named because of the frequency of fatal accidents on the sharp bend.

Norma Prefers Boone To Money

Norma Crane would walk over hot coals for a chance to act in any of Dick Boone's "Have Gun, Will Travel" shows. On Saturday the rangy blond from El Paso, Tex., plays the uncouth, pathetic Calamity Jane for Dick.

Hal Humphrey

His budget for such a role is $750 top, which is several times under Norma's current salary peg. "I do it because there's an atmosphere of freedom on Dick's set, and everyone has the right to discuss every problem," explains Norma. "It's about the one place left in Hollywood where an actor can really act."

This makes the fifth time she has appeared on Boone's Western. Her agent is repulsed at the idea of 10 per cent of $750, but Norma blackmails him by threatening to lock herself up in an off-Broadway play for six months at scale if she's denied the privilege of working for Boone.

YOU MAY HAVE GUESSED that Norma broke into her acting career in New York. She studied at Actors Studio and made her mark in the early '50s when "live" TV was booming in Gotham. When those days ended, Norma became part of the Exodus to Hollywood so that she could continue eating, as well as acting.

"What bugs you about working in Hollywood?" I ask, naively.

"It's this attitude of hurry up and get it done," she replies. "On a New York set, the crew and cast watch you act. Here the makeup man is sprawled in a chair, reading the Wall Street Journal. During a break he's conning you into buying a $200 ticket to something.

"In New York, the hairdresser may say, 'This Castro thing bothers me.' Here she'll probably say, 'Honey, you heard Elvis Presley's latest swingin' record? See these earrings, honey? Elvis gave 'em to me. He's a sweet kid.'

"I LIKE NEW YORK because it's like a small town for actors. You know people and walk down the streets with them. You get arrested if they catch you walking anywhere here.

"Another thing — nobody is happy with himself in Hollywood. They all want to be Liz Taylor or Marlon Brando."

Norma has decided that most of the writers in Hollywood hate women. This is her explanation for so many women's appearing on TV as no-good, murdering minxes. She recently did a cold-hearted wench on "The Untouchables." In one scene, if you recall, Norma ordered her husband (played by Larry Parks) to machine gun a fellow as he tried to crawl up a roadside embankment.

"I THOUGHT the whole story made me too tough, but somebody who had better remain nameless came to me and said, 'Norma, you've got to see the finished print — you're great!' There's a word that gets overworked in this town, huh?"

Norma prefers to be her own critic. She was cast as Wally Cox's girl friend in the first five episodes of the old (1953) "Mr. Peepers" series. She didn't pan out and was told she came on a bit too strong to play opposite Wally. Also the producer decided to play the relationship more for romance than comedy, as originally intended.

"But I knew what they were trying to tell me — simply that I was fired because I wasn't any good," says Norma.

"This is another reason I like doing 'Have Gun.' Dick Boone is a real star. You can tell him things and he listens. He may tell you you're nutty, or he may decide later that you were right.

"THE IMPORTANT THING is that every show he does is a try. Dick never puts down a show, no matter if it takes another whole day.

"When they told me about this Calamity Jane role, I didn't even have to see the script. It's the only show I'd do without a script, though.

"There was one other, but it's folding. 'One Step Beyond' you could trust because John Newland directed it, but when anyone else says, 'Trust me, this script is great,' I run the other way."

Norma is getting ready to run off to El Paso for a few weeks soon.

"Every once in a while I have to go back there to find the earth," she says.

Army Hints No Delay On Pershing Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army does not expect failure of the latest Pershing flight to delay the test program of the tactical missile.

One of the 34-foot rockets was destroyed in flight by the range safety officer Thursday night when the second stage did not ignite. It was only the third failure in 16 Pershing launchings.

"Any missile test program expects failures," an official commented. "We've had a good record with Pershing, and there's no reason to believe we won't meet our operational date of early next year."

The missile was aimed at a target 250 miles down range. The Pershing is being developed as a mobile field weapon with range of 50 to 700 miles.

Ohio Chiropodists Elect Akron Doctor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new president of the Ohio Chiropodists Association is Dr. Wallace L. Beylin of Akron. He was installed Thursday night to succeed Dr. Henry S. Dennis of South Euclid.

Dr. Thomas J. Meyer of Cincinnati was named president-elect of the foot doctor group which has a membership of some 400 throughout Ohio. The association's house of delegates, at their annual meeting here, elected Dr. William F. Mumsey of Columbus as vice president and Dr. Lon Cooper of Sidney as secretary-treasurer.

1 Killed, 2 Injured On Dead Man's Curve

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. William R. McClintick, 59, of Wickliffe, was killed in a two-car collision on Dead Man's Curve on Ohio 44 three miles north of here Thursday. Sheriff's deputies said Lawrence Hathaway, 68, of Canton apparently hit the brakes as he rounded the curve and his car swerved across the center line into the path of Mrs. McClintick's car. Hathaway and his passenger, Marie Wineinger, 65, of Kansas City, are in the hospital here.

Dead Man's Curve was so named because of the frequency of fatal accidents on the sharp bend.

Group Airs Legislation

Several bills in the State Legislature were discussed at a meeting of the Southern Jets Farm Bureau Council Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith of Wellsville R. D. 1.

Ten adults and six children were present. Herbert Frischkorn, president, gave the legislative report and said a bill for transfer of funds from the state to the local township trustees was passed Tuesday over the veto of Gov. Michael DiSalle.

Another bill requiring that farm machinery must have blinking lights when on the highways was discussed. The bureau is against that bill as well as another which says farmers should have a title to each piece of farm machinery.

It was reported that Columbiana County is first in the state with membership dues paid.

Youth training sessions and national Civil Defense air alerts were discussed. Mrs. Ruth Frischkorn spoke on "What Can We Do about the High Cost of Being Sick?" and the security program on Farm Bureau Insurance, which combines hospitalization and life insurance, was discussed.

The hostess served lunch. Next meeting is June 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Serafy of Wellsville R. D. 1.

Eyesight Still Good

Wellsville Man's 103

Despite failing health of his advanced age, Albert Stevens, 508 15th St., Wellsville, enjoyed his 103rd birthday anniversary today, and still smokes three or four cigars daily.

Besides the cigars, he also enjoys a corn cob pipe, according to Mrs. Doris Montgomery, a granddaughter. He resides with a son, Harry Stevens.

The first thing in the mornings, he has a smoke, washes, reads his Bible and then has breakfast. He also reads the Bible and says his prayers before going to bed.

The "centenarian plus 3" still reads without glasses and gets around pretty good. He still likes to dress up, Mrs. Montgomery said. He is hard of hearing and has been in failing health about two years, she said.

He was born in Philadelphia and said he can still remember as a youngster, people running through the streets yelling that President Lincoln had been assassinated.

He came to Salineville when about 9. He worked in the coal mines there. He has two other sons, James Stevens of Salineville and Albert Stevens Jr. of Cleveland. Two daughters are deceased.

He has two brothers, William Stephens, of Salineville, and James Stevens of Oxford, Ala., and a sister, Mrs. Ruth Carr of Ripley, W. Va.

Senate Unit Eyes Gen. Lemnitzer On Cuban Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee delving into the Cuban invasion disaster turns to Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer today for the Pentagon's still-untold version of the extent of its involvement.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., the subcommittee chairman, said its members want to know "who originated the order bringing the military into preparations for the invasion" and whether "signals were changed" after it got under way.

Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, faced these and other searching questions at a closed door meeting of the Foreign Relations Latin American Affairs subcommittee.

"We are trying to find out what the full extent of our military participation was, and also why," Morse added.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, a member of the subcommittee, said that on the basis of testimony so far it appeared the Joint Chiefs of Staff "had a very critical role to play in the invasion."

Crying often Unnecessary?

Q. Is it natural for babies to cry?

A. Probably not. The belief that babies cry when they want something leads parents to overlook other ways in which babies try to make their needs known. The parents expect and wait for the baby to cry. The baby soon learns that he must cry to be understood. Quite possibly, if the baby's needs were met before he became distressed, he would not cry at all!

Heart Work

Q. How much blood does the heart pump in a day?

A. In the course of a day your heart pumps 10,000 quarts of blood through almost 12,000 miles of arteries. The heart is a highly efficient machine, more efficient and more enduring than anything yet devised by man.

Body Odor

Q. A neat, tidy person about 60 years of age developed a very offensive body odor. What could cause this?

A. This sort of problem is often difficult to explain and just as difficult to correct. Neglected personal hygiene isn't necessarily involved and use of spread-on deodorants often does little or no good. By way of encouragement, however, doctors treating certain patients with a new tranquilizer noticed that in several cases, marked body odor disappeared. Why this happened isn't known but further tests are planned. It may be that the physicians have hit upon a new approach to this very common problem.

Vegetarians — Cancer

Q. Are vegetarians less likely to have cancer than people who eat meat?

A. There is no medical evidence that vegetarians are less prone to cancer than are meat-eaters. The Bantus of Central and Southern Africa often have cancer of the liver and these people eat virtually no meat.

Crying often Unnecessary?

Q. Is it natural for babies to cry?

A. Probably not. The belief that babies cry when they want something leads parents to overlook other ways in which babies try to make their needs known. The parents expect and wait for the baby to cry. The baby soon learns that he must cry to be understood. Quite possibly, if the baby's needs were met before he became distressed, he would not cry at all!

Heart Work

Q. How much blood does the heart pump in a day?

A. In the course of a day your heart pumps 10,000 quarts of blood through almost 12,000 miles of arteries. The heart is a highly efficient machine, more efficient and more enduring than anything yet devised by man.

Body Odor

Q. A neat, tidy person about 60 years of age developed a very offensive body odor. What could cause this?

A. This sort of problem is often difficult to explain and just as difficult to correct. Neglected personal hygiene isn't necessarily involved and use of spread-on deodorants often does little or no good. By way of encouragement, however, doctors treating certain patients with a new tranquilizer noticed that in several cases, marked body odor disappeared. Why this happened isn't known but further tests are planned. It may be that the physicians have hit upon a new approach to this very common problem.

Vegetarians — Cancer

Q. Are vegetarians less likely to have cancer than people who eat meat?

A. There is no medical evidence that vegetarians are less prone to cancer than are meat-eaters. The Bantus of Central and Southern Africa often have cancer of the liver and these people eat virtually no meat.

Jucker-A Good Salesman . . .

Ed Jucker, coach of the NCAA basketball champs — Cincinnati — must follow the theory of every good salesman. He sold himself before he tried to sell his product.

That seems to be the course he followed when he landed East Liverpool's Kenny Cunningham. The Potter star was very impressed with Jucker. And so was Jim Harris, Cunningham's high school coach.

The mild-mannered Jucker visited Cunningham Wednesday night and within a few hours had Kenny sold on Cincinnati.

When asked why he selected Cincinnati, Cunningham replied: "I like their type of basketball. When I visited the school, I liked the looks of things there, and I think a lot of Coach Jucker."

In other words, Cunningham liked about everything he saw at Cincinnati and Jucker's visit here Wednesday clinched the deal.

Harris commented: "I think Cunningham made a wise choice. I don't think he will go wrong down there and I know if I was in his shoes I would have done the same thing."

By accepting a basketball scholarship, it means the end of football for Cunningham, who was a great passer and still an even better defensive player.

Jucker advised Cunningham that most schools frown on an athlete competing in two major sports like football and basketball.

"I was just fooling myself, thinking I could play both. I know that now," Kenny said.

However, he will be able to play baseball, a sport he passed up this spring. He participated in post - season basketball tournaments which made him ineligible to take part in high school spring sports.

Cunningham plans to enroll in business education with a minor in physical education.

Jucker viewed movies of Cunningham and told Harris that he was "sold" on the East Liverpool product. The surprising thing is that Jucker was impressed with Cunningham's defense.

Most fans thought defense was the poorest part of his hardwood game, but Jucker pointed out the manner in which Cunningham stole the ball from opponents in the front court.

Did Outstanding Job At Cincy . . .

JUCKER did quite a job last season with Cincinnati. He took over following the graduation of three-time All-American Oscar Robertson.

What Cincinnati couldn't accomplish with Robertson in three years, Jucker and the Bearcats did in one season.

They got off to a very slow start, but steadily improved and hit their peak in the NCAA championship by upsetting Ohio State.

BY GIVING up football, Cunningham probably will never find out what his peak was as a passer. In the space of one season, he became one of the top passers in the state.

He didn't crack the starting lineup until his senior year. As a junior he played behind Bob Mackall and didn't obtain any game experience to speak of except on defense.

He set passing marks here without the benefit of even one year of experience, so his true potential as a quarterback may never be known.

Allen Winds Up College Career . . .

ABOUT 5 p. m. Saturday, Bernie Allen, another East Liverpool product, will ring down the curtain on his collegiate career at Purdue with a Big 10 doubleheader with Michigan State.

He will go into Saturday's game hitting over .370 against Big 10 competition. In the stands will be several major league scouts.

Contract talk will fly, but Allen has no idea at the moment with what team he will sign. He does know that he wants to stake out a major league baseball career.

What ever team he decides on, he will return to East Liverpool to sign the contract.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

CONGRATULATIONS to Bob Kiggans on winning a scholarship to The Citadel. The Charleston school is getting a top athlete.

WE'RE GOING against the odds in Saturday's Preakness and in all probability our luck won't hold up but in a change of pace we like Dr. Miller to upset the apple cart Saturday at Baltimore, with Carry Back second.

—:—

WHEN WE read the other day where Snoozie had won the Gold Cup at Ascot Park, we recalled watching this veteran run at Waterford Park.

Snoozie always fashioned the late Silky Sullivan-type finishes. A late starter, it would make up ground from the top of the stretch on, usually nosing out its opponents at the wire. Snoozie ran the same kind of race at Ascot last Saturday.

SPEAKING OF horses, two East Liverpool men have their steeds at Wheeling Downs ready to enter when the track gets under way May 26. Edison Smith and Robert McCauley have seven horses, including Bay Blue, Naughty Susan, Dear Alda, Montana's Fleet, Fair Arch, Greek Ares and Johns Pic.

—:—

SKIP HALL, Potter gridder from last season, will visit George Washington University in the nation's capital this weekend.

—:—

AL BAILEY, former Potter cage star, who was head coach at Geneva Spencer High School, has been named to a similar position at Geneva High. The two schools consolidated. Spencer was a Class A school. With the consolidation, Bailey will be coaching the AA ranks next year.

—:—

CONSTRUCTION of a new 16-lane bowling center with modern alleys, restaurant and a separate cocktail bar in Toronto is being planned, according to James J. Dyer, who heads a group of business and professional men who have incorporated to develop the plant.

—:—

THE HOFFMAN Plumbing Bowling team of East Liverpool will leave Sunday for Fort Wayne, Ind., and the WIBC National tourney Monday and Tuesday.

Members of the team are Ann Creaturo, Sara Purton, June McVay, Phyllis Stewart, Corrine Richard and Maxine Sommers.

Marlins To Play Under Colors Of Charleston

By The Associated Press

Those wandering Marlins—from Miami to San Juan to Charleston, W.Va.—try again tonight to find a home and make it stick when they play their first International League game under the colors of the West Virginia city against Jersey City.

Charleston has given the Marlins a $1 a year rental plus all the concession money for its 5,000-plus capacity ball park. And the fans will have a team to support that is only one-half game out of first place in the IL.

The rest of the league, in which Jersey City beat Columbus 8-5 in the only game played Thursday night, also feels it will benefit financially. The biggest reasons given for the club's transfer from the Carribbean was the almost-prohibitive cost of air travel and the decrease in visiting club's share of gate receipts because of low attendance.

Jersey City took advantage of three errors for three unearned runs and added four more runs against loser Tom Parsons.

Royals Sign Embry

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals have signed veteran center Wayne Embry for the 1961-62 season. Embry, 6-8, was the Royals' top rebounder last season.

Cordova, Spain, is famous for its leather.

Roberts Set To Face Bucs On Saturday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Robin Roberts, whose 283 victories in 13 years are the most recorded in the history of the Philadelphia Phillies, is scheduled to make his first start in 12 days Saturday night against the Pittsburgh Pirates in the second game of a three-game series.

And the right-hander is eager to get back into starting rotation again following the longest layoff he's had since he joined the Phillies in 1948.

Roberts, after a great spring training, got off to a bad start this year and dropped his first five games.

Manager Gene Mauch decided to give Roberts a long rest after his last starting assignment May 7.

When asked about Roberts' being passed up in the mound rotation, Manager Gene Mauch said: "For some reason he seems to do better later on. He was 1-7 at the first of June last year, but a winning pitcher from then on and I think he will be again."

Roberts says physically he feels fine and he's "ready whenever they tell me to pitch."

Roberts finished with a 12-16 season last year. He didn't win his second game until June 7 and won 11 while dropping nine the rest of the season.

Duren Fans 4 In 1 Inning

By The Associated Press

Ryne Duren tied a major league record with four strikeouts in one inning, but wound up with his third defeat as the Chicago White Sox beat the Los Angeles Angels 6-4 Thursday night. Detroit suffered its first shutout, on the four-hit pitching of Gene Conley, in a 1-0 loss at Boston that shaved the Tigers' American League lead to 4½ games.

Kansas City defeated Minnesota 4-3 with Marv Throneberry driving in all the A's runs, three on a homer off loser Jim Kaat.

The only other game scheduled in the AL, Washington-Baltimore, was postponed because of cold. No games were scheduled in the National League.

Duren, the ex-Yankee fire-baller, took the loss in the seventh inning at Los Angeles when the Sox broke a 4-4 tie and scored a pair of unearned runs. The big right-hander struck out Minnie Minoso leading off the seventh, then fanned Roy Sievers — who reached first when the third strike got past catcher Del Rice for a passed ball. Jim Landis followed with a triple that broke the tie, and after J. C. Martin struck out, Landis came in on a single by Sherm Lollar before Duren whiffed Sammy Esposito.

Four National League pitchers had struck out four men in one inning previously, but Duren was only the third to do it in the AL. Walter Johnson, the old Washington Senators' immortal, did it in 1911 and Guy Morton of Cleveland did it in 1916.

Frank Baumann (2-2) won for the Sox in relief.

The Tigers, after walloping 42 hits for 29 runs in three games at Baltimore, managed nothing but singles off Gene Conley (2-3), the ex-Philadelphia Phillie right-hander, who had lost three in a row, walked just two and struck out six in his first complete game in the AL. He retired Rocky Colavito on a pop fly for the final out with the tying run on first.

Boston scored in the fifth off Jim Bunning (2-4) on a single by Pete Runnels and a double by Don Buddin.

Marv Throneberry blasted his fifth home run of the season in the second inning off Kaat (1-3). Then he brought in the clincher in the eighth with a single off right-handed reliever Ed Palmquist, following a walk and single by Andy Carey. Ray Herbert (3-2) won it.

Conley Regains Control

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP)—Smiling Gene Conley, the two-sport major leaguer, holds the only shutout over Detroit this season because he has regained his control.

The 6-foot-8 Boston right-handed pitcher slowed the hit-crazy American League leaders down to four singles Thursday night in a 1-0 victory which again proved his zest for the challenge of a mighty foe.

Gene said his last prveious shutout was at the expense of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates—while he was with the Philadelphia Phillies last year.

As a member of basketball's top professional club, the Boston Celtics, Conley came up with some of his best rebounding and clutch baskets in the title series against St. Louis.

"I had good control," Conley said after his performance which included retiring 15 Tigers in order until Al Kaline singled with two out in the ninth. "I finally got in the groove of baseball thinking," he added.

"Conley is just now coming to where he know's what he's doing every pitch," said Manager Mike Higgins. "He's had good stuff other times but didn't control it like he did tonight."

Conley, acquired from the Phillies in a straight swap for Frank Sullivan, had won his first Sox start against Washington, then lost three in a row.

Giants Open Three Game Series With LA Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Riding a five-game victory string and atop the National League standings, the San Francisco Giants open a three-game series against revenge minded Los Angeles tonight at Candlestick Park.

Juan Marichal, the rookie sensation of 1960 who has posted a 3-1 mark this campaign, hurls for Manager Alvin Dark's Giants while fireball right-hander Don Drysdale pitches for the Dodgers.

Dark awaited a report on third baseman Jimmy Davenport's sore elbow before naming his starting lineup. If Davenport plays, he'll probably stick with his lineup with Orlando Cepeda on first base and Harvey Kuenn in left field.

Los Angeles arrived in the Bay Area three games behind the Giants in a virtual three-way second place tie, and the three-weekend games should draw more than 100,000 fans.

Final Trials Set For 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Practice time was running out today for drivers and owners still hopeful of qualifying cars for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 30.

The final time trials will be run Friday and Sunday. Today was the last chance to get unqualified cars tuned for the 10-mile run.

Twenty-seven cars qualified last weekend, but their starting assignments are only tentative. The 33 fastest cars on the basis of time trials will start the race, and some of those already qualified could be bumped out of the lineup.

Speedway observers figured it will take a qualifying speed of 144 miles an hour to stay in the lineup. Nervous drivers among those already qualified would be Norm Hall of Los Angeles, low with 141.861 miles an hour; Bob Veith of Fort Bragg, Calif., 143.062, and Bob Cleberg of Tucson, Ariz., 143.672.

Twenty-seven cars qualified last weekend, but their starting assignments are only tentative. The 33 fastest cars on the basis of time trials will start the race, and some of those already qualified could be bumped out of the lineup.

Speedway observers figured it will take a qualifying speed of 144 miles an hour to stay in the lineup. Nervous drivers among those already qualified would be Norm Hall of Los Angeles, low with 141.861 miles an hour; Bob Veith of Fort Bragg, Calif., 143.062, and Bob Cleberg of Tucson, Ariz., 143.472.

Marlins To Play Under Colors Of Charleston

By The Associated Press

Those wandering Marlins—from Miami to San Juan to Charleston, W.Va.—try again tonight to find a home and make it stick when they play their first International League game under the colors of the West Virginia city against Jersey City.

Charleston has given the Marlins a $1 a year rental plus all the concession money for its 5,000-plus capacity ball park. And the fans will have a team to support that is only one-half game out of first place in the IL.

The rest of the league, in which Jersey City beat Columbus 8-5 in the only game played Thursday night, also feels it will benefit financially. The biggest reasons given for the club's transfer from the Carribbean was the almost-prohibitive cost of air travel and the decrease in visiting club's share of gate receipts because of low attendance.

Jersey City took advantage of three errors for three unearned runs and added four more runs against loser Tom Parsons.

Indiana U. May Get Off Probation Hook While Big Ten Meets

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Indiana University hopes to get off the hook today as Big Ten faculty representatives consider a petition to end the Hoosiers' probation.

The school was put on probation by Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson a year ago for alleged improper recruiting practices. Wilson reportedly is satisfied that Indiana has changed its recruiting methods.

The probation suspended Indiana from last fall's conference football race and prevented the school from receiving any football television receipts.

In the opening of their three-day meeting Thursday, Big Ten leaders discussed the mushrooming college basketball scandal and announced that conference players "have never been investigated or been subject to suspicion of point-rigging."

Commissioner - elect Bill Reed said the Big Ten uses a special betting survey service to keep close tab on unusual betting switches involving conference games.

"We recognize that gambling does exist on a widespread basis," Reed said. "Where there is an exchange of gambling money, there will be chiselers and attempts made to fix games.

"We have recognized this evil and have emphasized among the conference players and coaches they should be wary of any improper approaches by strangers."

The conference faculty representatives also revised the Big Ten's controversial financial aid plan to athletes, but they did not eliminate the "need" proviso in the present program which has been in effect for four years.

The representatives proposed that a high school athlete now must establish a "predictable grade point average" of slightly below a C in his freshman year. At present, a prep athlete in the upper two-thirds of his high school class could obtain a scholarship, based on need.

Also changed was the proviso which allowed a superior student-athlete to get a "full ride" if he graduated in the upper one-fourth of his high school class. This was changed to permit full aid if an athlete can demonstrate ability to reach a predictable grade - point average of a C.

The modifying action must still be approved by individual schools which have three months to consider it.

Paul Doesn't Feel John Is Through

Antonelli Thinking About Retiring

CLEVELAND (AP) — Johnny Antonelli, the once-brilliant southpaw who won 125 games in the National League and has nothing but four defeats to show for his first American League campaign, is thinking seriously of retiring from baseball.

But Gabe Paul, the Cleveland Indians' general manager, thinks the 31-year-old pitcher will come around and help the Tribe. Antonelli talked with Paul Thursday night in Cincinnati during the early part of the Indians-Reds exhibition game. It was their second such discussion in the past 10 days.

"Johnny is discouraged," said Paul. "He wanted to know if he thought it would be best for all concerned if he hung 'em up. I told him to let me worry about that.

"Nobody but a conscientious man would ask such a question. Another type of guy would just take his money and let it go at that."

(Antonelli is earning about $40,000 on the basis of a decade of outstanding pitching in the NL, twice being a 20-game winner. He came to Cleveland from San Francisco along with outfielder Willie Kirkland in a trade for Harvey Kuenn).

"I told John he wasn't the first who got belted for three runs in an inning," Paul related. "I also pointed out that other pitchers have had bad starts and come back.

"All he needs now is a couple of good jobs to make his confidence return."

As Paul was relaying his conversation with Antonelli, the 6-foot left-hander was on the mound pitching the final three innings against Cincinnati. He permitted only one hit, walked one and struck out two.

It was the sort of performance —even in an exhibition game—that can do wonders to the morale of a man on the verge of quitting baseball.

In six AL games, five as a starter, Antonelli has been tagged for 39 hits in 27 1-3 innings and has an earned run average of 6.58.

Antonelli's troubles go back to his last season in the NL. He has lost nine straight games in starting roles going back to last May 21 and hasn't pitched a complete game since May 15, 1960.

A crowd of about 20,000 is expected for the opener of an important two-game series with the New York Yankees here tonight. Jim Perry (2-2) is the Indians' mound choice to face Bob Turley (3-2).

First Death Is Reported In Little League Baseball

TEMPLE CITY, Calif. (AP)—Jack B. Babcock sat dry-eyed in a house that seemed suddenly empty.

Grieving for his son, the first youngster ever killed in a Little League baseball game, he said: "No one could help this. I don't blame anyone.

"My wife Carolyn (recuperating from a heart operation undergone a few weeks ago) doesn't blame anyone.

"We want the Little League to go on. We know it should go on, and we know that's exactly what Barry would want too."

Barry J. Babcock, 9, was the smallest boy in Temple City's Little League team.

But he was a 52-pound, 4-foot-8, tow-headed "tiger," his father said Thursday.

"I called him Tiger," he said. "You know. . . what you call a kid who gives his whole heart and soul to everything. Barry was like a little tiger when he was competing."

The youngster died Wednesday, moments after being hit in the chest with a pitched ball. His father was in the stands.

"They said at the hospital that his heart was crushed," Babcock said.

A "section" of land is 640 acres.

'Beat Carry Back, You Can Win,' Says Foe

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — "If you can beat Carry Back, you can win," is the way trainer John Jacobs views Saturday's Preakness.

And so does just about everyone else.

"That little fellow is a rough customer," says Jacobs, who trains Dr. Miller for his mother, Ethel Jacobs.

Jacobs has good reason to respect Mr. and Mrs. Jack Price's doughty Carry Back and so should handlers of the other seven colts expected to be entered today in the Preakness.

The trim son of Saggy proved in the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago he can never be counted out. He overcame a disadvantage of 11 lengths in the last quarter of a mile in beating Crozier.

It was the fifth victory for Carry Back in eight 1961 races and stamped him as the one to be beaten for the 3-year-old championship. In addition to Dr. Miller and Crozier, Carry Back licked two of the other Preakness probables in the Derby.

The others still not discouraged are Globemaster and Sherluck. Joining them for this second leg of the triple crown are Hitting Away, Crimson Fury, Orleans Doge and Nashua Blue.

All have been forewarned not to expect Carry Back to give them as much of a head start as he did in the Derby.

"For the sake of my own ticker, I hope he lays closer to the pace," said Price.

He thinks jockey Johnny Sellers has the same plans. "But I never have given him any orders," Price says. "The only thing I ever told Sellers was to hurry back."

City Softball League Sets Meeting Sunday

Snead Putts Way To Lead In Own Event

By DICK LEONARD

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Sam Snead feels he has shaken the putting "yips." And that spells trouble for his golfing opponents.

Of course, once you get the putting yips, you never get rid of them entirely, said the West Virginia slammer who shrugged off the rain Thursday to grab a two-stroke lead in the opening round of the Sam Snead Festival.

"But you can shake the yips off once in a while," Sneak said. "I had them so bad in 1949 that I got an entirely foreign putter and an entirely foreign way to putt and won twice as many tournaments as anybody else, twice as much money, and had the lowest stroke average of any of the pros.

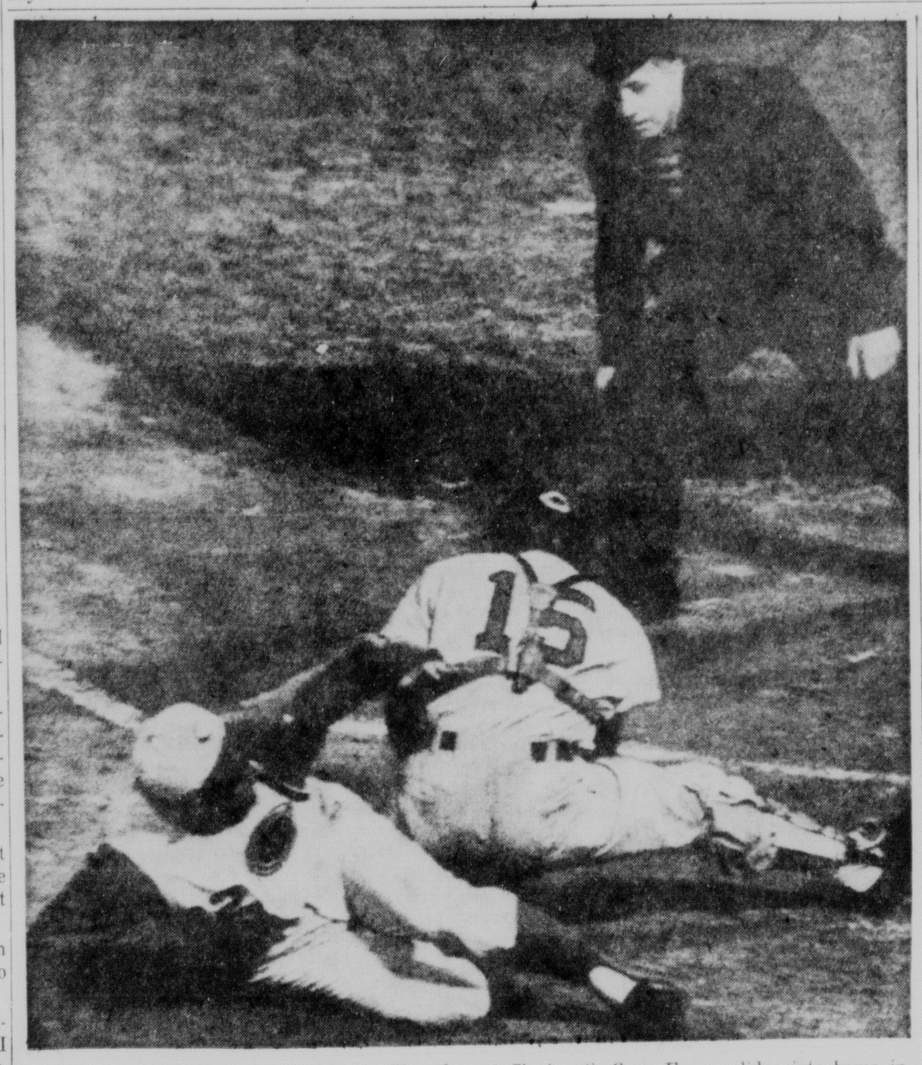

"So what happens? Ben Hogan wins one tournament and is named golfer of the year. After that I decided to quit playing full-time on the circuit."

Snead says he is using a new putter now and is following through more on his push. He needed only 29 putts Thursday while scoring a 65 on the par 70 old Whit ecourse.

Holding down second place with a 67 at the start of today's 18-hole round was Bob Watson, 37, club pro from Elmsford, N. Y. Next with 68s were top money winner Gary Player, British Open champion Peter Thomson, and Mickey Homa of Rye, N. Y. Bob Toski had a 69.

Arnold Palmer, nursing a bad cold, was deadlocked at 70 with five others—Chick Harbert, Dave Douglas and three West Virginians, Mike Krak of Morgantown, Buddy Cook of Man and Joe Taylor of Charleston.

The Arc de Triomple in Paris is the largest existing triumphial arch in the world.

IN AN EXHIBITION baseball game Thursday at Cincinnati, Gene Freese slides into home in the first inning under the watching eye of a local amateur league umpire as Valmy Thomas puts the tag on the Red third baseman. Seconds later as Freese strode away from the plate Thomas tagged him and he was declared out. The umpire said Freese missed the plate. The Reds defeated Cleveland, 7-4. (UPI Telephoto)

Wall, Cupit Share Lead

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Art Wall and Buster Cupit set out to hold their two-stroke lead in the Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament's second round today while 92 other professional golfers scrambled to get within the "top 60" cutoff point.

The field will be cut after today's 18 holes. Thursday, 45 golfers shot par 72 or better over the 7,000-yard Hot Springs Country Club course.

Wall and Cupit fired 7-under-par 65s to take the early lead. Right behind them at 67 were Jerry Steelsmith and Mike Souchak. Then, at 68, came Doug Sanders, Julius Boros, Al Geiberger, Dave Ragan and Mason Rudolph.

Their hot putting and steady fairway games were inspirational to Wall and Cupit. It marked what Wall hopes is the end of a back ailment that has plagued him through the first 12 tournaments of the season. "The only time my back bothered me was when I made an improper swing," he said.

Wall, of Pocono Manor, Pa., shot a steady 31-34—65 with seven birdies. He missed by inches a 65-foot chip shot on the 18th hole.

Cupit of Fort Smith, Ark., had a slightly more irregular round with eight birdies and a bogey. Both had 26 putts.

Shoemaker To Seek 4,000th Win Today

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Willie Shoemaker today needs only one more win for the 4,000th of his comparatively brief but brilliant career as a jockey.

The Shoe had three winners Thursday at Hollywood Park and ran his career total of 3,999. When he hits 4,000, Shoemaker will join a select list of jockeys that includes Johnny Longden, Sir Gordon Richards of England and Eddie Arcaro.

Shoemaker is slated to ride seven horses today at Hollywod Park.

THE OTHER DAY

Bob Redmond

We heard an interesting thing about Leonardo da Vinci (1452 - 1519), perhaps the old world's greatest inventor and artist. He wrote with his left hand, backhanded, and from right to left, almost upside down, exactly opposite to the usual way of writing. But it certainly didn't impede him. He was the genius who did such diverse things as paint the world-famous portrait "Mona Lisa," and foresaw and put on paper a drawing of a flying machine in the 15th century. To list his many accomplishments would take many pages. One can truly say here was not only an inspired genius, but in view of his writing method, a man who knew his many subjects backward and forward.

Most of us do well to master just one subject in a lifetime, and if we know it well, people may say we know it backward and forward. That's what we hope your experience will cause you to say about us when you have us take care of your automobile needs.

When you bring your car to us you are assured you will get not only expert service, but conscientious attention to every detail.

IN AN EXHIBITION baseball game Thursday at Cincinnati, Gene Freese slides into home in the first inning under the watching eye of a local amateur league umpire as Valmy Thomas puts the tag on the Red third baseman. Seconds later as Freese strode away from the plate Thomas tagged him and he was declared out. The umpire said Freese missed the plate. The Reds defeated Cleveland, 7-4. (UPI Telephoto)

Ohio Will Be Flooded With Track Carnivals

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio will be flooded with track - field meets this weekend.

Thousands of youngsters, scholastic and collegiate, will compete on a far-flung front.

The best of the high schoolers—about 1,000 in all—will qualify for the state championship races in Columbus next week.

Cincinnati Elder, defending Class AA baseball champion, already is in the four-team state finals field. Other entrants, in both Class A and Class AA will be decided this weekend.

Rounding out the tests for the four-ply spring program are tennis qualifiers in Columbus, Cleveland, Akron and Toledo, with the central, eastern and southeastern racquet stars competing in the Capital City event, and district golf meets at St. Clairsville, Columbus, Cleveland, Youngstown, Kent, Findlay, Toledo, Swanton and Jackson.

County Group Sets Trapshoot Sunday

The Columbiana County Fish & Game Association will hold a trapshoot Sunday at 1 p. m. at the club's range located off Route 7 on the Lisbon - Elkton Rd. Following the prize matches, the traps will be open for 25-round practice matches.

The collegiate contests are the 15th Mid - American Conference championships at Bowling Green and the 58th Ohio Conference title tests at Delaware.

Western Michigan goes after its fourth straitht crown in the Mid-American, and is an odds-on favorite. Akron's Zippers should be runaway winners at Delaware.

High school district meets, qualifiers for the May 26-27 state finals here, are on tap practically everywhere.

The Class A schools will fight it out for state berths in district evenst at Columbus, Bellaire, Chagrin Falls, Berea, Mansfield, Athens, Springfield and Cincinnati.

The larger Class AA schools have meets slated at Oxford, Cincinnati, Troy, Dayton, Athens, Mansfield, North Canton, Salem, Willoughby, Cleveland, Elyria, Bellaire and Columbus.

Shoemaker To Seek 4,000th Win Today

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Willie Shoemaker today needs only one more win for the 4,000th of his comparatively brief but brilliant career as a jockey.

The Shoe had three winners Thursday at Hollywood Park and ran his career total of 3,999. When he hits 4,000, Shoemaker will join a select list of jockeys that includes Johnny Longden, Sir Gordon Richards of England and Eddie Arcaro.

Shoemaker is slated to ride seven horses today at Hollywod Park.

Wall, Cupit Share Lead

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Art Wall and Buster Cupit set out to hold their two-stroke lead in the Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament's second round today while 92 other professional golfers scrambled to get within the "top 60" cutoff point.

The field will be cut after today's 18 holes. Thursday, 45 golfers shot par 72 or better over the 7,000-yard Hot Springs Country Club course.

Wall and Cupit fired 7-under-par 65s to take the early lead. Right behind them at 67 were Jerry Steelsmith and Mike Souchak. Then, at 68, came Doug Sanders, Julius Boros, Al Geiberger, Dave Ragan and Mason Rudolph.

Their hot putting and steady fairway games were inspirational to Wall and Cupit. It marked what Wall hopes is the end of a back ailment that has plagued him through the first 12 tournaments of the season. "The only time my back bothered me was when I made an improper swing," he said.

Wall, of Pocono Manor, Pa., shot a steady 31-34—65 with seven birdies. He missed by inches a 65-foot chip shot on the 18th hole.

Cupit of Fort Smith, Ark., had a slightly more irregular round with eight birdies and a bogey. Both had 26 putts.

THE OTHER DAY

Bob Redmond

We heard an interesting thing about Leonardo da Vinci (1452 - 1519), perhaps the old world's greatest inventor and artist. He wrote with his left hand, backhanded, and from right to left, almost upside down, exactly opposite to the usual way of writing. But it certainly didn't impede him. He was the genius who did such diverse things as paint the world-famous portrait "Mona Lisa," and foresaw and put on paper a drawing of a flying machine in the 15th century. To list his many accomplishments would take many pages. One can truly say here was not only an inspired genius, but in view of his writing method, a man who knew his many subjects backward and forward.

Most of us do well to master just one subject in a lifetime, and if we know it well, people may say we know it backward and forward. That's what we hope your experience will cause you to say about us when you have us take care of your automobile needs.

When you bring your car to us you are assured you will get not only expert service, but conscientious attention to every detail.

Mind Should Be Set For Slimming

William James, that brilliant psychologist, left us a wealth of practical advice on how to use our energies constructively so as to live life triumphantly. From personal practice, he was convinced that it is excitement, ideas, and effort that restore energy and vitality to people.

Ida Jean Kain

There is excitement in this challenging idea: It's been said that inside every fat girl is a slim girl wildly signaling to be let out. If the idea of giving the slim you her chance stirs your imagination and you get into the spirit of slimming, this can be a positive adventure.

If you have never delved into the subtle mysteries of the way the subconscious part of the mind works, nor experimented to prove its amazing power, you may be skeptical about what thinking slim can do.

THE MOST FASCINATING realm in the world is your own mind, and a discovery of the part your inner mind plays in slimming, or anything else you attempt to do, is enlightening and exciting.

In building an electronic brain, scientists speculated as to whether or not the human brain operates on this same basic principle of feeding in certain data to get the answers. In the opinion of many of these experts, the answer is yes.

The continuous data we feed our brain is based on our thoughts, beliefs, and established attitudes—so the answers that come out are in direct relation to what is fed in.

William James has said that human beings can alter their lives by changing the pattern of their thoughts. If all the thoughts that you feed into your mind regarding reducing are in the direction of becoming that vital, attractive, slim you, one happy day you will be ideal weight.

When you hitch your will power to your goal and automatically think in terms of achieving your goal, and give this picture to your mind, you are on the slimming thought - current. Also, it is known that there is a deep tendency in human nature to become like that which we habitually picture.

You must, of course, believe that you can achieve your goal, otherwise you will not make the effort to stay with it. Grab hold of this promise — if you will think, act, and picture success in slimming, success is certain.

THIS CAN BE no fleeting wish or mere whimsy. It's not magic, it's attention sustained through joyous expectation that brings results.

If you are whole - hearted in your desire to be desirable weight, and think in terms of the pattern of eating that makes it possible for you to be right weight, that's it.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

SBA Pleased At Leasing Of George Plant

EAST PALESTINE — The Small Business Administration has issued a statement expressing gratification that the leasing of the W. S. George Pottery Co. plant by Royal China Co., Inc., of Sebring "will put people back to work."

The SBA was a co-signer of the lease which will enable Plant 1 to resume production about July 1, handling Royal China orders.

SBA officials said some $40,000 still is owed on a $250,000 loan granted the George firm during its reorganization and refinancing about three years ago.

Statements issued by the Cleveland and Washington offices of the SBA indicated the agency officials "are pleased to see fulfillment of the lease which means putting people back to work."

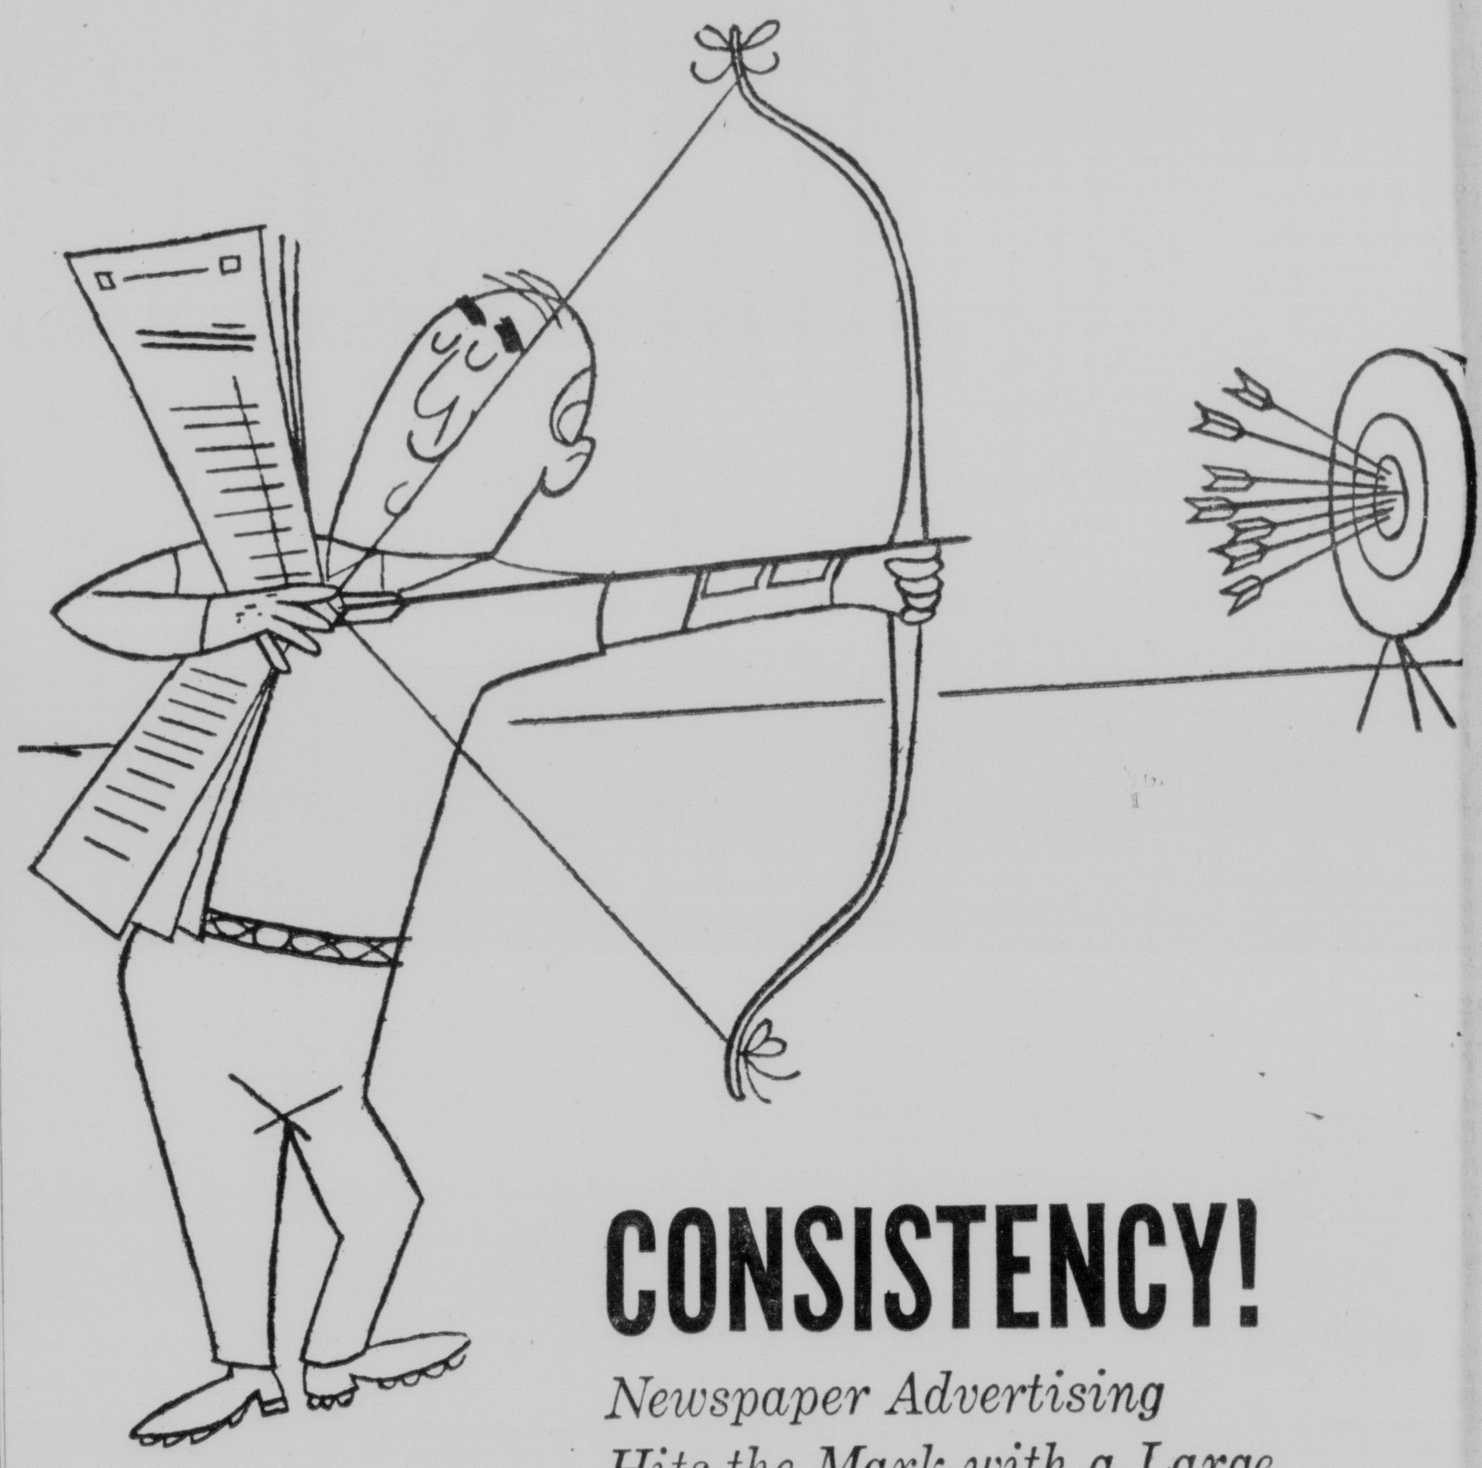

The statements may have been issued to offset rumors that SBA aides were reluctant to agree to the lease arrangement.

The present system of withholding personal income taxes from the wages of U. S. citizens began on July 1, 143.

North Carolina Official Will Seek Extradition For Fix Violators

NEW YORK (AP)—North Carolina District Solicitor Lester V. Chalmers says he'll seek extradition for anyone who has violated North Carolina laws in connection with the basketball fixing scandals.

Chalmers made that statement after a 2½ hour conference Thursday during which he and Alfred J. Scotti, New York County assistant district attorney, agreed on ground rules for their joint effort to clear up the mounting scandals. They were scheduled for another conference today.

Chalmers declined to elaborate on the matter of extradition nor would he say whether charges against three North Carolina State College players would be pressed.

"We agreed on a plan of action and that is that we've got a prime target — to get the gamblers," Chalmers said. "Our intention right now is to clean this mess up and create confidence again in sports and to insure the people that corruption is a thing of the past."

He would not say whether he had any particular gamblers in mind or whether any gambling contacts in this state were involved. There were some indications, however, that the possible role of Aaron Wagman and Joseph Hackman in the North Carolina affair might be under discussion. Wagman and Hackman are under indictment in New York in other point-shaving cases.

The three North Carolina State players charged with taking bribes to shave points in games are Stan Niewierowski and Anton (Dutch) Muehlbauer of Brooklyn and Terry Litchfield of Louisville.

Cincy U. Coach Hurls Challenge At OSU

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Ed Jucker, coach of the University of Cincinnati's NCAA basketball champions, has challenged Ohio State to an annual game with his Bearcats.

Speaking Thursday night at the local bar activities dinner, part of the three-day Ohio State Bar Association convention, Jucker mused: "Perhaps next year we can get a game with them. I think it would make a nice rivalry."

But he added: "Ohio State seems to have a policy against playing other teams in the state." The Buckeyes' 1961-62 schedule already is complete.

Jucker's team beat favored OSU in overtime in the NCAA finals in March. He described that victory as "the game of the century—a once in a lifetime game for a coach."

North Carolina Official Will Seek Extradition For Fix Violators

NEW YORK (AP)—North Carolina District Solicitor Lester V. Chalmers says he'll seek extradition for anyone who has violated North Carolina laws in connection with the basketball fixing scandals.

Chalmers made that statement after a 2½ hour conference Thursday during which he and Alfred J. Scotti, New York County assistant district attorney, agreed on ground rules for their joint effort to clear up the mounting scandals. They were scheduled for another conference today.

Chalmers declined to elaborate on the matter of extradition nor would he say whether charges against three North Carolina State College players would be pressed.

"We agreed on a plan of action and that is that we've got a prime target — to get the gamblers," Chalmers said. "Our intention right now is to clean this mess up and create confidence again in sports and to insure the people that corruption is a thing of the past."

He would not say whether he had any particular gamblers in mind or whether any gambling contacts in this state were involved. There were some indications, however, that the possible role of Aaron Wagman and Joseph Hackman in the North Carolina affair might be under discussion. Wagman and Hackman are under indictment in New York in other point-shaving cases.

The three North Carolina State players charged with taking bribes to shave points in games are Stan Niewierowski and Anton (Dutch) Muehlbauer of Brooklyn and Terry Litchfield of Louisville.

Cincy U. Coach Hurls Challenge At OSU

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Ed Jucker, coach of the University of Cincinnati's NCAA basketball champions, has challenged Ohio State to an annual game with his Bearcats.

Speaking Thursday night at the local bar activities dinner, part of the three-day Ohio State Bar Association convention, Jucker mused: "Perhaps next year we can get a game with them. I think it would make a nice rivalry."

But he added: "Ohio State seems to have a policy against playing other teams in the state." The Buckeyes' 1961-62 schedule already is complete.

Jucker's team beat favored OSU in overtime in the NCAA finals in March. He described that victory as "the game of the century—a once in a lifetime game for a coach."

Castro-Trujillo Pact Seen Reality

By JOSEPH NEWMAN
Herald Tribune News Service

NEW YORK—The two leading dictators of the Western Hemisphere, Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba and Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, have agreed to call off their underground Caribbean war and to enter into a non-aggression pact in face of rising pressure from the United States and other American Republics.

There have been rumors of such a development for several weeks. Reliable reports from Havana, Cuidad Trujillo and Washington now give credence to the rumor.

Until recently Trujillo, the oldest dictator in the world, and Castro, the newest, were the most bitter enemies, constantly plotting each other's death or downfall. Now they pretend that nothing had ever happened between them and vie only in their claims as to which was the first to establish a socialist state in the Western Hemisphere.

On May Day, when Castro formally declared Cuba to be a Socialist Republic, the Dominican radio went on the air with a claim that Trujillismo was "the vanguard of socialism."

The non-aggression pact between the two Caribbean dictators recalls the nonaggression pact between two former European dictators, Hitler and Stalin.

Pacts of Convenience

Both pacts were concluded between enemies who entered into temporary agreements of convenience so as to be in a better position to meet their common enemies. In both cases the common enemies were members of the Western coalition.

The Castro-Trujillo pact is reported to have been concluded earlier this year.

Under the terms of the arrangement, each dictator promises to refrain from intervening in the internal affairs of the other. In other words, each dictator promises to abandon his efforts to overthrow the other.

This involved dismantling subversive underground movements in each other's country, disbanding military units which had been prepared to invade each other's territory and dropping radio propaganda warfare directed against each other's population.

Upon conclusion of the agreement, Castro imprisoned all the Dominican exiles whom he had been helping in Havana to organize an invasion of the Dominican Republic, and Trujillo imprisoned Cuban exiles, associates of deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista, whom he had been helping in Cuidad Trujillo to organize an invasion of Cuba.

There are different versions as to whether the pact was entered into verbally at a meeting of emissaries of the two dictators or whether a written document was drafted and signed.

Oscar Pinto Santos, Cuban ambassador to Communist China, was mentioned as the envoy who was dispatched by Castro to Cuidad Trujillo to prepare the ground for the pact.

In Washington, American officials said they were convinced that there has been a get-together between the Castro and Trujillo regimes.

More Than Happenstance

They observed that the following is not happenstance:

1. In recent months "Radio Caribe," Trujillo's official radio, has been openly expressing admiration of Castro and his methods, interspersing violent attacks against the United States. Its terminology is similar to that used by Moscow and satellite broadcasts.

2. "El Caribe", Trujillo's official newspaper, also been expressing admiration for Castro's success and methods, with terminology again along established Communist lines.

In Havana, Juan Orta, former intimate friend and private secretary to Castro, confirmed the existence of the Castro-Trujillo agreement just before he deserted the regime and took asylum in a Latin American embassy.

Mr. Orta made the disclosure to a Cuban friend during a meeting in Castro's office. He deserted shortly before the unsuccessful invasion of Cuba last month.

Official circles in Haiti, which is on the same island with the Dominican Republic, are reported to be deeply disturbed by the Castro-Trujillo pact, especially in view of rumors that the two work together to bring down the Hatian government and install one more to their liking.

Trujillo began flirting with Castro and the Communist countries to spite the United States following the conference of American Foreign Ministers at San Jose, Costa Rica, last August.

At that time the American Republics, besides censuring Cuba, recommended diplomatic and economic sanctions against the Trujillo regime in retaliation for its attempt to assassinate President Romulo Betancourt and overthrow his Venezuelan government.

Ironically, Castro instructed his envoy at the conference to vote with the other American republics in favor of sanctions against Trujillo.

U.S. News Services Dropped

The Dominican dictator initiated his romance with the Communist world by replacing United States news services with Prensa Latina, a news agency established by Castro and associates of Juan Domingo Peron deposted Argentine dictator and a Soviet news service.

Incidentally, President Betancourt, now the common foe and target of the two Caribbean dictators, expelled Prensa Latina from Venezuela.

In its broadcast, declaring Trujillismo "the vanguard of Socialism," Radio Caribe said: "Today for the first time on the American continent and thanks to the Cuban revolution of Fidel Castro, the day of the workers is being celebrated in Cuba with all the dimensions of the Red Square of Moscow; and this represents a big slap in the face of the Yankees who had never wanted to allow any movement directed toward the realization of popular aspirations."

Then it added boastfully: "All this is old in the Dominican Republic. When the socalist movement began taking on strength in the Soviet Union, placing the people's interest above that of privileged minorities, imperialism and colonialism, in this nation of the Caribbean, in this proud and dignified Dominican Republic, a system of government devoted to vindication of national life, to protection of the worker and peasant was already in full swing.

"The great social revolution which lifted the republic from disorder and poverty had already started because under the motto of social dignity which this day of the worker represents in the most advanced nations of the world, the doctrines of Trujillismo had already been instituted."

Couple Hoping Postman Doesn't Ring 4th Time

BALTIMORE (AP)—The postman not only rang twice, he rang three times, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Scott hope he doesn't ring again.

In March the Scotts received a refund check from the Internal Revenue Service for $304.71.

On April 10 they received another. Realizing an error had been made, they returned it. Unfortunately, it somehow got torn, and the IRS sent them another check to "replace the one which was mutilated." Again it was returned.

Then came a bill for $306.06. The IRS had discovered the duplication and the added amount was for interest.

A phone call to the Baltimore IRS Bureau brought this encouraging advice: "Send the bill directly to us, or your wages will be attached."

Joseph Jonas, Retail Division chairman, reported on the Mother's Day sales promotion and announced plans for a Civil War Days Sales near the end of June.

Permission was granted for recent solicitations by the NAACP and the Leopard Booster Club. Charles Finley, president, presided. Next meeting is June 15.

Future Of Peace Corps Discussed

Despite unemployment and "distressed areas", most parents in America enjoy comparatively high prosperity. Unfortunately, many children are growing up in too great abundance of material things, have too much money spent on them or are given too much money. Far too few are learning frugal ways and habits of hard work, physically and mentally. The Peace Corps of Volunteers to Work Abroad sets up a new ideal for the youth of America, appealing to unselfish urges and exalting the values of self-denial and hard work in the cause of world neighborliness.

Dr. Garry Meyers

PRESIDENT KENNEDY points out "that we have in this country an immense reservoir of dedicated men and women willing to devote their energies and time and toil to the cause of world peace and world progress".

He explains, moreover, "that Peace Corps members will often serve under conditions of physical hardship, living under primitive conditions among the people of developing nations. . . . They will receive no salary. Instead, they will be given an allowance which will only be sufficient to meet their basic needs and maintain health. . . .Service with the Peace Corps will not exempt volunteers from Selective Service (draft)".

Among the things these volunteers will do are teaching in primary and secondary schools, public health work, helping in village development through school construction and other programs, helping local farmers to use modern implements and ways of productive agriculture — and in the most backward places of the world.

SOON FROM 500 to 1,000 young people, carefully selected, will be engaged in rigorous training.

B. Sargent Shriver, head of this program, says the applicants must accept "very difficlut, very hard, very real work. . .I would imagine that no American in modern times will have been asked to do harder work. It's going to be work carried on in the underdeveloped part of the world, under difficult diving conditions, different diet, different culture, different language, sometimes in remote places."

My guess is that by the time your baby, or your boy or girl in kindergarten or high school, reaches the age of 20, there will be a world call for Peace Corps volunteers by the tens of thousands. The number might, some day, exceed the number of men in our armed forces.

Ask yourself if you are rearing your child to become an acceptable volunteer.

My bulletins, "Allowances" and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Man In Slaying Case Due For Mental Test

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A 21-year-old Charlotte man picked up here Sunday for questioning in connection with the slaying of a Cincinnati, Ohio, policeman, is being committed to a mental institution. Detective Lt. O. A. Crenshaw said papers have been signed to send Jerry Cecil Strange to an institution at Morganton.

Strange was picked up at the request of Cincinnati police for questioning in the slaying of Patrolman Donald Martin, 29, on March 11. Crenshaw said Strange has been in the institution at Morganton before.

Man With Knife In Chest For 30 Years Claimed

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Joseph Fields lived 30 years with a knife blade in his chest. He died last Monday at 52.

Thursday his death was ruled a homicide.

There will be no prosecution, however. Under Michigan law a death occurring more than a year and a day after an assault cannot be legally attributed to the assault.

An X-ray in 1959 showed a broken 3-inch knife blade imbedded in Fields' chest. He said it was a pocket knife blade which broke off in a fight "about 30 years ago."

Doctors decided it was too dangerous to attempt to remove the blade.

Fields had been ill with diabetes and a heart condition before his death. But after an autopsy Dr. Theodore S. Rosen, assistant medical examiner, ruled his death a homicide.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The postman not only rang twice, he rang three times, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Scott hope he doesn't ring again.

In March the Scotts received a refund check from the Internal Revenue Service for $304.71.

On April 10 they received another. Realizing an error had been made, they returned it. Unfortunately, it somehow got torn, and the IRS sent them another check to "replace the one which was mutilated." Again it was returned.

Then came a bill for $306.06. The IRS had discovered the duplication and the added amount was for interest.

A phone call to the Baltimore IRS Bureau brought this encouraging advice: "Send the bill directly to us, or your wages will be attached."

Future Of Peace Corps Discussed

Despite unemployment and "distressed areas", most parents in America enjoy comparatively high prosperity. Unfortunately, many children are growing up in too great abundance of material things, have too much money spent on them or are given too much money. Far too few are learning frugal ways and habits of hard work, physically and mentally. The Peace Corps of Volunteers to Work Abroad sets up a new ideal for the youth of America, appealing to unselfish urges and exalting the values of self-denial and hard work in the cause of world neighborliness.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY points out "that we have in this country an immense reservoir of dedicated men and women willing to devote their energies and time and toil to the cause of world peace and world progress".

He explains, moreover, "that Peace Corps members will often serve under conditions of physical hardship, living under primitive conditions among the people of developing nations. . . . They will receive no salary. Instead, they will be given an allowance which will only be sufficient to meet their basic needs and maintain health. . . .Service with the Peace Corps will not exempt volunteers from Selective Service (draft)".

Among the things these volunteers will do are teaching in primary and secondary schools, public health work, helping in village development through school construction and other programs, helping local farmers to use modern implements and ways of productive agriculture — and in the most backward places of the world.

SOON FROM 500 to 1,000 young people, carefully selected, will be engaged in rigorous training.

B. Sargent Shriver, head of this program, says the applicants must accept "very difficlut, very hard, very real work. . .I would imagine that no American in modern times will have been asked to do harder work. It's going to be work carried on in the underdeveloped part of the world, under difficult living conditions, different diet, different culture, different language, sometimes in remote places."

My guess is that by the time your baby, or your boy or girl in kindergarten or high school, reaches the age of 20, there will be a world call for Peace Corps volunteers by the tens of thousands. The number might, some day, exceed the number of men in our armed forces.

Ask yourself if you are rearing your child to become an acceptable volunteer.

Man With Knife In Chest For 30 Years Claimed

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Joseph Fields lived 30 years with a knife blade in his chest. He died last Monday at 52.

Thursday his death was ruled a homicide.

There will be no prosecution, however. Under Michigan law a death occurring more than a year and a day after an assault cannot be legally attributed to the assault.

An X-ray in 1959 showed a broken 3-inch knife blade imbedded in Fields' chest. He said it was a pocket knife blade which broke off in a fight "about 30 years ago."

Doctors decided it was too dangerous to attempt to remove the blade.

Fields had been ill with diabetes and a heart condition before his death. But after an autopsy Dr. Theodore S. Rosen, assistant medical examiner, ruled his death a homicide.
